PLAN COMMISSION ASKS AUTHORITY OVER PARKING

WE JOIN THE ARMY

After spending three days with the 33rd division of the National Guard at Camp Ripley, Minn., eating army food, sleeping in an army tent, eating breakfast at 6:15 a.m., wearing OD clothes, taking our showers in small crowds, riding in army jeeps, associating with army men, from privates to one and two star generals, and having luncheon with Gov. Stratton, we pass on to our readers a few of the highlights of the experience of a VIP in an army camp.

It all started Friday morning at O'Hare field when for the 550 mile trip north we boarded a 5th army plane, usually reserved for generals and politicians.

It was the first time in our 72 years that we have been given a VIP rating, which in army lingo means "very important person." Of course, we press people were a peg lower than the captains of industry, office holders, and the governor's staff whose planes took off from the municipal airport Saturday morning. However, we people of the press rated better eats, had sheets on our cots, and entered the "holy of holys" of army life, which, of course, the really "very important persons" missed. They were too busy having cocktails to don army fatigues.

Our real host was Lt. Col. Floyd Fulle, who resides in Arlington Heights, but who is editor of the Suburban Times. Our traveling companion was the colonel's dad. For three days we ate, slept, and talked army life, being admitted as a rookie to the third battalion with either a major or a captain keeping us out of trouble, ready to grant every whim and answer questions.

Army uniforms all look alike and it was difficult for us to recognize some of our home boys. Cpl. Deering, son-in-law of Arlington police chief, was passing around cigars in honor of his new son. In reply to a request that he be allowed to remain home to welcome the boy, he was told the army needed him more than the stork.

Our initiation to army life was a jeep ride of 50 miles forward and a hundred miles up and down. We inspected gun emplacements and firing lines, and handled a few shells. The muzzle loading mortars would delight any youngster. You drop the charge in the barrel and away it goes.

The recoiless rifle that is almost as dangerous to the man behind the gun as to the target caused us to suggest to our captain that we were ready to move on.

Evidently nobody has told the army about the eight hour day from "can't get 'em up" at 5:45 a.m., until taps at 10 p.m., is a rather long day.

"Feed a soldier good and he will be happy, no matter how hard is the training," Col. Fulle told us. That is why the best cooks are kept in the enlisted men's mess. It is a good thing that women are not allowed the free range of an army camp, especially the mess halls. They might adopt in the home the army dish washing technique. We hesitate to say it but our soldiers scour cooking utensils with a whole lot more patience than many a housewife.

At our visit Saturday morning to the "gun positions" for the afternoon fire power demonstration, we kept a wary eye for any general. If accosted, our credentials for being off limits would have been a pencil and notebook.

We visited gun emplacements, dugouts, trenches and fox holes, from which a few hours later, a withering fire would be directed toward the "invading army."

Suddenly, the order came "get out of the way," the artillery was about to do some range finding to locate the targets that had been placed before us on the "battle field" of the afternoon.

The fire demonstration at 4 o'clock was deafening. Armed with officers' field glasses, we watched from a grandstand seat the massacre of cardboard figures.

The picked men of the third battalion, in those fox holes, gun emplacements and dugouts we had visited that morning, were giving the enemy all they had.

That evening a sound truck urged the men to attend the show in the camp theatre. We wished that we had gone. On the mistaken statement of an officer, that it would be a S. State street exhibition, we did not follow the crowds. We missed something. High class professional talent entertained the boys, which included the greater part of the governor's party.

The "battle" of Saturday afternoon was a sample of real fighting. Sunday morning's review of 7,000 men showed these same men on parade. For an entire hour the infantry, artillery and the auxiliary units passed before us.

Will we welcome a second invitation next year?

Yes, if our inspection tour can be by helicopter in place of an army jeep.

It takes a long time to unscramble your insides after an up-and-down, sideways, forward ride in an army jeep.

BUT IT WAS WORTH IT.

No three star general could have been more royally entertained than the two editor guests of the third battalion.

The Korean situation was not so tough that the above pictured editors were called up for service, it was simply the "press lift" that gave local writers a chance to see the local National Guardsmen in training at Camp Ripley, Minn.

3rd Battalion Puts On Big Show For Governor At Ripley

The third battalion of the National Guard, commanded by Lt. Colonel Floyd Fulle, of Arlington Heights, planned and staged a demonstration of fire power at Camp Ripley, Minnesota, Saturday afternoon. It was termed outstanding by the officers of the National Guard and the regular army, who are attending the encampment as inspectors. Among the spectators were Gov. Stratton and his staff as well as a number of men prominent in industry as well as representatives of two other nations.

It was no easy task to arrange the ground work for the demonstration, but Fulle and the other officers of the third battalion appreciated the honor and confidence displayed in them by the decision of Major General Ferry that they were best situated to handle the infantry part of the combat firing exercise.

Men from the five companies of the battalion built the bunkers, machine gun nests, fox holes and placed the targets over a wide area of five hundred acres, which served as the battle ground for the defense by the home army in an assimilated attack by foreign troops who had landed from planes fifty miles north.

Every weapon used by the infantry was brought into play, from carbines, machine guns, mortars, to bazookas. Also called in defense of the home troops were a squadron of navy planes, four tanks and heavy artillery which fired from distances of two miles. The sixty minutes of the demonstration ended with a five minute barrage in which all arms engaged.

It was the first time in the history of the national guard that such a display of fire power has been given at a national guard encampment.

Prior to the big display, the guests were taken by busses on a tour of the entire camp, visiting a large rifle range in which colored soldiers were firing thousands of volleys, a demonstration of bridge building, the crossing of the river by an enemy force with heavy weapons; and a demonstration of a water filtering plant.

Sunday morning, 7,000 troops were reviewed by Gov. Stratton. It was an impressive array of infantry, artillery, engineering attachments, demolition crews, the Red Cross and other units that are a part of a division.

While these companies engaged in athletic games and sports during the afternoon, a reception for Gov. Stratton was attended by the 150 invited VIP's and the "heavy brass" of the camp.

Thirty minutes after the end of the luncheon, two planes for the Midway airport and one for O'Hare field took off for Chicago. The governor and party traveled by train.

Stuart R. Paddock Sr., of Paddock Publications and Fred Fulle, of Des Plaines Publishing Co., were among the "press lift" from O'Hare field for which a 5th army plane usually used by the top army was the means of transportation.

While no official announcement will be made by the 33rd division until the end of the camp, the third battalion is confident that it has carried off the honors of the entire camping period of its training and the showing it made during the review.

The third battalion includes Headquarters company, stationed at Palatine; Company M, Arlington Heights; Company I, Des Plaines; Company K, Franklin Park; Company L. Melrose Park.

With the departure of the guests, the attention of the 3rd battalion was turned to a three day bivouac in the field where, with all equipment, they moved Tuesday. During that time they will be on their own for the necessities of life. Col. Fulle has promised them a steak dinner on their return. They will leave for home Friday. The train trip to Camp Ripley required 18 hours, or 23 hours from the time they left the armories, July 3.

The more experienced men were picked to man the weapons used at the demonstration. Among them were:

'75 recoiless rifle — Edward A. Lang, Arlington Hts.; Elroy Wilke, Arlington Hts.; Clarence A. Petersen, Palatine.

'81 mortar — Jack Hinneberg, Arlington Hts.; John Klowsky, Arlington Hts.; Daniel W. Lind, Arlington Hts.

50 Machine Gun — Daniel Labonne, Wheeling; Kenneth Jacobson, Arlington Hts.; Frank Hanson, Wauconda: Robert Burden, Palatine; Franklin Hummel, Palatine.

Heavy Machine Gun — Clarke Nightengale, Chicago; Roger Hogreve, Arlington Hts.; Donald Lewis, Chicago; Donald Mueller, Mount Prospect; Earl Porten, McHenry; Gordon Stade, Arlington Hts.

The staff of Lt. Col. Fulle included: Major Morris M. Hill, Franklin Park; Capt. Kenneth E. Douglas Blackhawk Hills; Raymond W. Klippert, Des Plaines; Capt. Henry J. Prochaska, Mount Prospect; Capt. Peter V. Heinen, Barrington.

Mt. Prospect Meets Water Shortage Head-on

The village of Mount Prospect took drastic steps Tuesday night to conserve its water supply for home services and drinking. An ordinance was passed which prohibits all sprinkling until such time as the mayor lifts the ban. A fine of $25 to $200 is provided.

Homes were without water for a full 24 hours Monday and Tuesday.

Presbyterian Bible School Opens Monday

Vacation church school at the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will begin next Monday morning and continue each week day from 9 until 11:30 a.m. until July 31. All children of the community, regardless of church affiliation, are invited to attend.

PROSPECTIVE students may register at the church, Dunton and Eastman, Sunday morning between 9:30 and 11. Mrs. E. M. Mommsen, superintendent, will be there to accept registrations. There is a fee of 50 cents per child to help cover the cost of materials. Children between four years old and sixth grade are welcome. Those unable to register in advance may do so the first day of school.

Adults Urged To Get 'In The Swim' At Recreation Park

An hour a day, between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., has been set aside for adults to get "in the swim" at Recreation Park pool in Arlington Heights. At this time all adults, 21 or over, have the exclusive use of the pool, no kiddies allowed.

There is one exception to kiddies, however. Any parent having a child under 7, may take him into the pool at that time. A child must be 7 or over to go in the pool alone.

Beginning July 20 an adult swimming class will be conducted during this hour. However, the swimming is open to adults, whether or not they take lessons. Art Holland, swimming director, said that eight one-hour lessons will be given for $10, plus the purchase of a season swimming ticket. Lessons will be given on Monday and Wednesday evenings only, but the pool will be open every day during that time for the adult swimming hour.

Will Meet Regularly To Study Stanton & Rockwell Report

Arlington Heights plan commission took the initial step July 8 on a parking study. Following a considerable discussion with respect to the problem, Edmund J. O'Brien, chairman, appointed a subcommittee for that purpose.

Its members are Evrell Plank, 714 Mayfair rd., chairman, William McNeil, 730 S. Beverley Lane and Elmer Crane, 626 N. Belmont. It was urged that steps be taken in an effort to alleviate the present parking congestion as soon as possible. The committee will consult with Attorney Thal for clarification and guidance.

A letter will be sent to the village board requesting authority to study the problem and asking if the commission is expected to originate a parking plan.

ATTENDANCE at the plan commission meetings is nearly 100%. Otto Wulbecker, on account of business duties, has forwarded his resignation to Mayor Albert Goedke. The members have requested Mayor Goedke to appoint William F. Meyer Jr., as a member of an advisors panel. O'Brien and Charles Seales will act as a sub-committee to learn the legal authority by which the plan commission operates.

The members expect to study the Stanton & Rockwell master plan, section by section, and hope to make definite recommendations to the village board.

The commission is going slow in the approval of subdivision plats referred to them. If the present policy is continued, subdividers will be required to follow local ordinances letter by letter.

The Husak subdivision plat which is plotted for 65 foot lots was ordered to be returned to Mr. Seegers by a 4 to 2 vote with a recommendation that the plat be revised to provide for 66 ft. or larger lots in accordance with the present village ordinance.

KIMBALL HILL appeared before the commission July 2 presenting plats of Unit one and Unit two. He stated that the two units had been approved by the county regional plan commission, the county map department and the county board. He asked that the Arlington Hts. plan commission also give its approval. The commission withheld approval until such time that they would be able to consult with Attorney Thal.

Two other subdivisions referred to the plat and subdivision committee are Schaefgos Subdivision No. 1 and Lutgert's 72 acre tract bounded by Wilkie road and Oakton st.

A copy of the location plans of the Tri-State expressway through Arlington Heights to the county line was turned over to the secretary for study. The plans had been presented by the Cook county department of highways last month. They requested that they be advised as to whether or not the plans are satisfactory to the village.

Sprinkling Ban Resumed; Use New Basis

The sprinkling ban is on again in Arlington Heights, but on a different basis. Houses with odd street numbers can sprinkle on the odd numbered days, and those with even street numbers on the even numbered days. In addition, all residents of town are requested to turn off their sprinklers and conserve water for a period of one hour after sounding of the fire alarm.

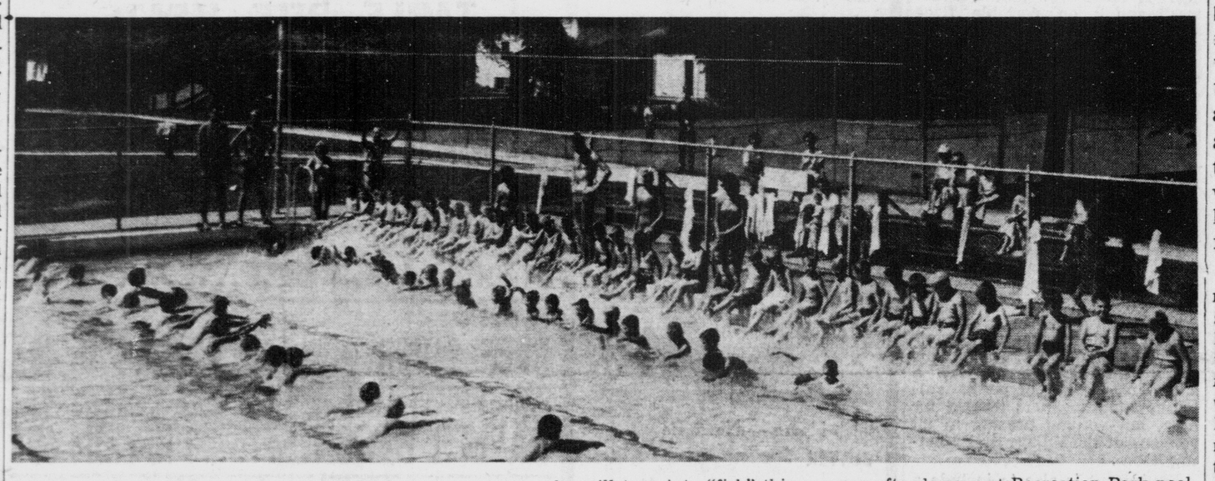

Trustee Robert Bishop, chairman of the water department stated, "In removing the sprinkling ban entirely last week, it was hoped that with the temporary measures we had taken that we could meet the demand. We have found we cannot and still maintain sufficient pressure in the system. In fact, we have reached the point where the demand exceeds the supply — and, this situation will not change until the long awaited 1500 gpm pump for the new well is received and installed — and that won't be until at least the latter part of August.

"WE SET another new record last Saturday, when we pumped over 2,500,000 gallons. To meet this record demand we had all pumps operating at maximum, and yet almost drained the new 1,000,000 gallon reservoir. The failure of one of the pumps during these peak periods could have been disastrous.

"We hope that the new restrictions on sprinkling will be followed, and that they will materially assist in maintaining sufficient pressure. Whether they will or not can only be determined after a trial period. We request the cooperation of every resident in complying with these new restrictions — and not to waste water on the permissible days — particularly so if the temperature is in excess of 85 degrees.

"If these new restrictions do not solve our problem, more exacting ones will have to be adopted."

A portion of the more than 1300 youngsters who will turn into "fish" this summer after lessons at Recreation Park pool, Arlington Heights. Seven instructors, including Art Holland, swimming director, are on hand to teach the youngsters all there is to know about swimming. Other instructors are: Dick McAuliffe, Chuck Johnson, Kay Steingraber, Anita Petersen, Nancy Dallia and Marjorie Payne. Phoebe Anne Ellis conducts a special class in water ballet, which is held five days a week, 3 hours a day. Beginners receive instructions for 45 minutes a day, three days a week, while advanced students receive two 45-minute lessons a week.

Boy, 6, Girl, 4, Hit By Autos; Hold One Driver

A six year old boy and a four year old girl were hit by autos in two separate accidents in Arlington Heights this week.

Daniel Koffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koffler, 804 W. Campbell, is in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, with a broken left leg, which will require his hospitalization for three or four months. His left arm is also badly bruised. He was taken to the hospital by Black's ambulance.

Daniel was crossing the street at Campbell and Ridge, when he was struck by an east bound car driven by Raymond J. Korenski, 26, of Hialeah Dadoco, Florida. The lad had waited for a west bound auto, driven by Curtiss R. Larsen, before crossing the street, and was almost on the south curb of Campbell ave., when he was hit. The accident occurred Saturday.

Korenski, who has no insurance on his car, is being held at the Arlington Heights police station.

THE SECOND victim was Sandra Gehrke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Gehrke, 1311 N. Ridge, who was also taken to St. Joseph hospital for treatment. She had no broken bones and her parents hoped to bring her home Tuesday night.

The accident occurred Monday evening on Northwest hwy., between Dunton and Evergreen. Mr. Gehrke had left the little girl in the car while he went to a store and when she attempted to follow him she was hit by a west bound auto driven by Frances Boeger, 17, of 740 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Freddie Walters, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters, 415 E. St. James st., suffered a slight concussion and a deep shoulder cut July 6 when he fell into the basement of a house under construction at 500 N. Beverley in the Eastwood subdivision.

Freddie was playing soldier with some other youngsters when he lost his balance and fell backward into the basement opening, striking his head on a concrete block. Fortunately he had an army helmet on his head, which took the brunt of the blow. He was treated at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, where he remained until July 9. He is now resting at home.

THE FIRE department answered an inhalator call Monday morning, but was unable to revive James J. Stuart, 39, of 913 N. Beverley lane, who was pronounced dead by Dr. Norbert Leckband. Cause of death was unknown.

The firemen were called to a prairie fire at 943 Fernandez July 8. They also put out a fire Sunday in the storage shed at the Jewel Food store, and answered a call early Monday morning at the Creamery Package, but the night watchman had extinguished the blaze by the time the firemen arrived.

WE DELIVER

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Familiar "going, going, gone" of the auctioneer will ring out Sunday afternoon when the Ushers' club of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church sponsors a public auction. It will take place on the church grounds, Park and Mitchell, beginning at 1 p. m.

"It costs nothing to come and look," is the slogan of the club, of which Walter Stumpf is president. Professional auctioneers Moehling and Stade will be on hand to handle the bidding. They are the folks who recently handled the Lions club auction.

Members of the parish and others having "white elephants" on hand are asked to donate them. A call to Mr. Stumpf at CL. 3-6733 will bring a collector to the door to make a pick-up. George C. Poole has donated the use of one of his trucks — with a full tank of gas — for use in hauling merchandise.

Items of interest to all members of the family will be auctioned — tools and paint, bicycles and tricycles, wallpaper, an ice cream freezer and fine old china. One article especially interesting to a collector is an antique lawn mower sharpener from the old Busse shop.

Refreshments will be available on the grounds. The entire proceeds will help augment the parish's building fund.

Newly Ordained

In a most impressive ceremony — the first of its kind we have ever seen — Stuart C. Saul was ordained as a Presbyterian minister and officially became assistant minister of the Arlington Heights church. A recent graduate of Princeton Theological seminary, Mr. Saul will be minister of Christian education and membership.

Participating in Sunday's service were Rev. James W. Harris, vice-moderator of the Chicago Presbytery; Dr. Paul S. Johnson, executive secretary of the Presbytery; Rev. Morton Hickman of Irvingwood Community church, and Rev. C. Victor Brown.

When in the course of the service, Mr. Harris invited any other minister of the church who happened to be present to participate in the actual ordination and offering of the right hand of fellowship to Mr. Saul, Rev. Charles S. Shangler of the Chicago office of the Presbytery came forward.

Dr. Johnson, who always holds the full attention of his listeners and leaves them with something to remember, delivered the sermon on the subject "Are You a Presbyterian?" Mr. Hickman delivered the charge to the ordinand, talking in a personal manner to Mr. Saul, yet speaking to the audience as a whole as well.

Church members who attended also heard for the first time the choir director and organist, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Auge. Mr. Auge sang a duet with Miss June Greissmer.

NEW NON-FICTION BOOKS:

"Decisive Battles of the U.S.A.," by Major General J. F. C. Fuller. Believing that our past wars have been a major factor in making this country what it is, Major General Fuller presents in this comprehensive study a complete roster of those crucial actions on which our national life has turned. His brilliant analysis of all the great battles in American history includes the Battle of Trenton to Neuse-Argonne

"Cokesbury Dinner and Banquet Book," by Clyde M. Maguire. Written in a warm, easy-to-follow style, this book contains twenty-three plans to show every host and hostess what to do and how to do it. The dinner and banquet plans are suitable for any time of the year, and they offer suggestions for dozens of happy eating meetings.

"As I Saw It," by D. R. Fitzpatrick. This book, by a man who artistically combines political criticism, craftsmanship and art into cartoons, is the story of a great depression, a world war, and a cold war. This is the record of a generation, created by a man who draws pictures with a purpose.

"North From Malaya," by William O. Douglas. In the pages of this book we are able to share William O. Douglas' inside information about Malaya, the Philippines, Indo-China, Burma, and Formosa. Here we find a revealing record of Communist revolutionary tactics, and a brilliant exposition of the only strategy by which Asia can stem the tide of Communism; the counter-revolution.

"Call Me Lucky," by Bing Crosby. Bing sings not only in the record shop or on stage; he has developed a new technique of singing through the pages of a book. This book is written in the casual tone of a man singing to himself in the shower. In this way Bing tells how it all happened, from Childhood days in Spokane to the present.

"Shower Parties for All Occasions," by Helen Emily Webster. Here is a collection of the most unusual, inexpensive and easy-to-give parties ever assembled. The book includes the initial planning stage, themes, and invitations, through the party itself, food, games, decorations, up until the last guest has said goodby.

WESTERN: "Destination Revenge," by Jim Conroy.

MYSTERY: "Case File: F.B.I.," by the Gordons.

FICTION: "The Violent Wedding," by Robert Lowry.

JUVENILE BOOKS:

"What's Inside of Engines?" by Herbert S. Zim. Here, in clear, detailed text and pictures, are explanations of what actually goes on inside a steam engine, a gasoline engine, and a diesel, a steam turbine, a jet engine, and a rocket.

"The Popcorn Dragon," by Jane Thayer. Dexter was an attractive baby dragon except for one thing. Because of that one thing, he lost all of his friends. Read the story and discover how Dexter finally solved his problem.

SHOPPING with SHARON

I had been on vacation for several weeks during which I became a married woman. Now I'm having quite a time catching up with our growing community. I stopped at the new specialty shop for women and children and certainly was surprised. The Terri Lee shop, located at 210 E. Northwest hwy., is owned by Mrs. Franz and Mrs. Peters, a local resident who has owned three dress shops previously. Before opening this shop, Mrs. Peters made a complete study of the needs of residents of this area. The shop carries a complete line of women's apparel and accessories, and, incidently, the summer merchandise is now reduced 20 per cent. Dresses are regularly priced from $2.98, and those who join the merchandise club this week will be given a free gift.

Of particular interest to those of you planning parties is their centerpiece rental service. There are centerpieces for bridal and baby showers and children's parties. A beautifully decorated basinette is in their window this week, and the kitchen doll is just perfect.

Another feature of this shop is their gift counter full of practical gifts anyone would love to own. I, myself, must get one of those unusual individual cigarette holders.

Along with their free gift wrapping service, they have a complete line of Hallmark greeting cards. Stop in soon, for you'll enjoy browsing in this cozy shop with its courteous, helpful service.

X-M insect repellent can be used to spray everything from clothing to the skin. The new electric Bug-A-Way Home Unit kills flies, mosquitoes and other cold blooded insects . . . just plug in and it produces a vaporized gas, the residue of which lasts at least two weeks. The residue is harmless to furniture and humans. The complete unit is priced at $3.50. Refills are $1.

In the line of insect repellents for the skin, varieties range from 6-12 to No-Bite Insect Repellent stick.

Sun worshippers note — Helena Rubenstein now produces a new sun tan oil that has an insect repellent in it. Approved by Consumers Research, it is priced at $1. For a refreshing treat while baking in the sun, try Twain Sun Screen Stick . . . all at Arlington Heights Pharmacy.

Have you been putting off buying that new summer furniture you've been wanting right along? Well, don't delay any longer, for now's the time to buy — while there's still a good selection left and while Arlington Furniture Mart is featuring discounts up to 30 per cent on all their outdoor furniture.

You can select from aluminum, steel and redwood chaise lounges, aluminum chairs, peel and rataan recreation and porch furniture and many other varieties of garden furniture. Aluminum contour chairs that previously sold for $34.95 are now priced at $27.95. And believe me these chairs are comfortable!

I advise you not to wait too long; stop at Arlington Furniture Mart as soon as possible. You'll be using the furniture now and for many summers ahead . . . and you'll save yourself quite a few dollars.

Maher Resigns from Board of Education

Martin F. Maher, a member of the Arlington Heights high school board of education since July, 1945, tendered his resignation to the board at its July meeting. Maher stated that increased duties and responsibilities in conjunction with his position as advertising manager with the Florsheim Shoe Company, and recently purchased by the International Shoe Company of St. Louis, caused this decision.

Maher was appointed to the board of education July 31, 1945, following the resignation of Clarence I. Davis, then President of the Board. The board elected E. F. Laurin to the presidency, and Maher filled the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of Laurin as a member.

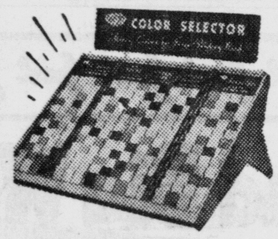

During the eight years Maher has been on the board he has been an active member and has given generously of his time and talents to the entire educational program. In accepting Maher's resignation the board freely expressed its regrets and immediately took steps to prepare a resolution of appreciation for the effort and service extended by Maher during the past eight years.

The board then proceeded to elect Kenneth E. Dougan to membership on the board to fill the unexpired term caused by Maher's resignation. Dougan, a former member of the board, resigned last March. His resignation was caused by a change of residence. Dougan was a Board member representing the unincorporated area and lived on Oakton st. in Elk Grove township. Due to the fact he moved to Arlington Heights it was necessary for him to resign from the board as the Illinois Status required two members to be from unincorporated areas. Dougan presently lives at 1103 Euclid, Arlington Heights.

Grigsby-Allison Takes Over New Addition While Employees Vacation

Grigsby-Allison employees returning from their annual vacation Monday found the plant considerably changed.

For the past two weeks maintenance and moving crews have reorganized the production lines to take advantage of the new 12,000 foot addition which has just been completed. This move has made possible a much more orderly departmental arrangement. One of the most noticeable improvements was the installation of "nearly perfect" lighting for each job.

Also included in the new building is a completely equipped First Aid room with a full time nurse in attendance. One of the nurse's duties will be accident prevention, which fortunately has not been a major problem to date but which can always be improved.

New and enlarged facilities for the engineering department and plating department are rapidly being made ready for occupancy, and it is expected that these final moves will be completed in the next three to four weeks.

The company is looking forward to full capacity production for the third and fourth quarters, and with the added space it is expected that employment will reach and be maintained at an all time high. The company has a substantial back-log of defense work in the latest designed projects which are scheduled to keep running through 1954. In addition, as a major supplier to all the radio and television companies in the country, a record commercial output is planned for in the rapidly growing TV and electronics field.

Kids Play 'Cops' and Stop Traffic; Real Police Tell of Danger

Police answered a complaint of an Arlington Heights woman who said that two children were stopping traffic on W. Campbell and throwing dirt at the cars.

When they investigated the youngsters, six and eight, told the officers they were playing police, but they realized they were not police and promised they would not do it again. Investigating officers informed them of the dangers of playing in this manner.

A resident at 102 Brighton, Stonegate, reported to the police that a 12 foot ladder and an iron wheeled wheel barrow had been stolen from her garage.

Another fight was reported on the carnival grounds July 6, when Tom Livingston was hit by James Brooks, Chicago, who was running the ferris wheel. The men were taken to the police station and requested to appear in court Monday night.

Three drunks lying in alleys and in weeds were reported by residents and two were picked up by the police. They spent the night in jail. The third man was gone by the time the police arrived.

R. H. Beckman, 812 Fernandez, reported that the glass in the back door of his home was broken and a small hole, like a BB gun shot, was in his front window. This happened July 9.

J. W. Verhaag, 814 N. Beverly, told police someone tried to enter his home by prying open a window. The culprit removed the screen first.

Lost children, dogs, speeders and stolen bike reports were among the other complaints handled by the department during the past week.

Mrs. Robert Bishop, 530 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, and her mother, Mrs. Vera Avins, were badly shaken up when their auto collided with one driven by E. Elliott Ormsbee, 605 S. Mitchell, Monday.

The accident occurred at Fairview and Chestnut. Mrs. Bishop was traveling south on Chestnut, and Ormsbee was headed west on Fairview when he hit the Bishop car on the left side.

The grill, hood, front fenders and bumper of the Ormsbee car were damaged, and both left doors and front left fender of the Bishop car were wrecked.

TV NEWS

The answer to whether or not the public is fed up with charity telethons was delivered recently in Los Angeles, where, in a continuous 27-hour telecast, Jack Webb and Ben Alexander (Joe Friday and his partner on "Dragnet" emceed a cerebral palsy show to a successful half-million dollar total. This topped (but not by much) the amount pledged in Chicago during a similar telethon. It all goes to show that most of us have hearts.

Golf has had a big boom since President Eisenhower turned the White House lawn into a driving range . . . and now comes word that a new series is being filmed featuring the country's top golfers for a TV series. Pros such as Sammy Snead, Julius Boros, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff and many others will demonstrate golfing technique. Be sure that TV set is tuned to perfection, you golfers! I can't think of a better way to cut a few strokes off my game.

Our TV stations take care of station-originated picture problems so quickly we hardly notice . . . but down in Caracas, Venezuala, recently, during the telecast of a wrestling match the picture suddenly went off. In a moment a card appeared, saying, "Please stand by. Service will be resumed in eight days!" Our service on TV isn't like that . . . it's fast, courteous and efficient. Our factory trained mechanics and modern testing equipment mean service satisfaction at DON HAGER'S TV & APPLIANCE, 11 W. Davis Street, Arlington Heights. Phone CLearbrook 3-0700.

To Attend Convention

Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell and family of Biesterfeld rd., Elk Grove, will leave for New York July 16 to attend the International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the Yankee Stadium July 19 to 26. They expect to return in two weeks.

Geraldine Schaefer Is Now Mrs. Robert Kranz

(Medlar Studio

Rev. Walter C. Schaefer officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Geraldine Joan Schaefer, and Robert Louis Kranz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius F. Kranz, Plum Grove rd., Palatine. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Schaefer of Marengo.

The ceremony was held at 7 p. m. June 6 at the Zion Lutheran church, Marengo. The bride's sister sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "The Lord's Supper" accompanied at the organ by Theodore Pruess. The church was decorated with palms, baskets of carnations, gladioli, stephanotis and soft candlelight.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white bouffant gown fashioned with a molded bodice of chantilly lace which flared into a scalloped overskirt of tiers of nylon tulle sweeping into a regal train. Her fingertip veil edged with wide bands of chantilly lace fell from a coronation crown studded with pearls and rhinestones. The bride carried a white Bible with a cascade arrangement of white carnations and variegated ivy centered with a white carnation corsage.

Miss Charlene Schaefer, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of nile green tulle fashioned with a shirred bodice and a bolero jacket. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and variegated ivy.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Sievert Block, sister of the bride, Miss Betty Lou Piotter, Mrs. Raymond Radlein and Miss Jean Kranz, the latter two sisters of the groom, chose orchid gowns styled identically to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and variegated ivy. Miss Judy Schaefer, youngest sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in nile green and carried a basket of yellow carnations and ivy.

James Schwingel was best man. Ushers were Maurice Schaefer, brother of the bride, John Waznik, George Schenk and Vernon Guenther. David Schaefer, brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Marengo Lutheran school hall. The tables were laid with cloths that had been used at the wedding of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klemp, 53 years ago, and at the wedding of her parents 24 years ago.

The bride's mother wore a pink dress of chiffon over taffeta with pink accessories and a corsage of rubrum lilies and ivy. The groom's mother wore a blue shantung suit with pink accessories and a rubrum lily and ivy corsage.

After a honeymoon in the Ozarks, the couple will make their home in Mishawaka, Ind., where the groom will be employed at the Bendix Corp.

The bride was graduated from Marengo high school and attended Valparaiso university for one year. The groom was graduated from Maine township high school and received his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Valparaiso university in June.

Gloria Cherwin And Kenneth Yost Wed

The marriage of Miss Gloria Cherwin and Kenneth Yost was solemnized June 27 at Irving Park Lutheran church, Chicago, at 4 p.m. by Dr. Joshua O'den, pastor of the church. Dr. O'den officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents and at that of her sister, Vivian, to Frank Bowles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Cherwin, 626 Newbury pl., Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Yost of 111 Yost ave., Park Ridge.

Large baskets of white delphinium, white carnations and pink peonies decorated the church for the candlelight ceremony. Arthur Zielke, choir leader, sang "Because" before the procession and "The Lord's Prayer" after the ceremony. Mrs. Harry T. Carlson was the organist.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle over white taffeta fashioned with a fitted jacket of chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiny lace cap, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Berry Photo

Mrs. Frank Bowles, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink net over taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses. The four bridesmaids wore identical gowns of blue net over blue taffeta and carried cascade bouquets of yellow gladioli.

The bridesmaids were Miss Valdine Clare, Miss Maryann Gerbosi, Miss Jacquelyn Luehring, all of Arlington Heights, and Miss Betty Yost, sister of the groom.

George Yost served his brother as best man. Richard Yost of Park Ridge, brother of the groom, Martin Kennelly, Richard Arthur and Howard Grow, all of Chicago, were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cherwin wore a pale green embroidered nylon ankle length dress, a large white hat and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Yost, mother of the groom, wore a champagne crepe dinner dress with a matching lace hat and a white orchid corsage. The two maternal grandmothers, Mrs. Emelia Erickson of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Minnie Spath of Chicago, wore print dresses and corsages of pink carnations.

A dinner was served for members of the wedding party and the immediate family at the Cherwin home, and a reception for 200 guests was held at the Mount Prospect Country club. A smorgasbord buffet supper was served at the reception. Among the honored guests were Dr. and Mrs. O'den.

The bridal couple are honeymooning in Arizona and California. Upon their return they will live temporarily at the home of the groom's parents. The senior Yosts are touring Europe for the summer months. After Labor Day, the young couple will be at home in their new house in Park Ridge.

The bride was graduated from Arlington Heights high school and The Katherine Gibbs school in Chicago. The groom, a Korean marine veteran, was graduated from Ohio university and is now enrolled at the John Marshall Law school in Chicago.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A luscious dessert that is served often in the Edward W. Fritz household at 301 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, is Mock Strawberry Delight.

This dessert is made in four layers, and although the fruit combination in one of the layers consists of ground raw cranberries, apples and crushed pineapple, it not only looks like, but tastes like, strawberries!

The first layer and the topping is of crushed Nabiscos. Powdered sugar, sweet butter and egg is combined to form a creamy second layer.

The fruit mixture, mentioned above, is used as the third layer, and is topped by a layer of whipped cream.

This rich, delicious dessert is a favorite with the Fritz family. Mrs. Fritz received the recipe from Mrs. C. A. Hughes, who is the wife of the former Cook County Farm Advisor, now residing in Florida.

This good cook is active in several organizations in town. She is a charter member of the Wheeling unit of the Cook County Home Bureau, a member of the Arlington Heights Woman's club and the Friendly Circle at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

The Fritz' have two children: Edward Jr., who is a high school senior, and Laura, who is now Mrs. Alvin Fisher of Pittsburgh, Pa. And, of course, they are proud of their new granddaughter, Kathy, who is 3 months old.

Mock Strawberry Delight

9 ounces (2 pkg.) Nabiscos.
1½ cups powdered sugar.
¼ pound soft sweet butter.
1 egg.
1 cup raw cranberries.
1 cup peeled apples.
1 cup crushed pineapple.
1 pint whipping cream.

Grind the Nabiscos and sprinkle one-half into a pyrex dish.

Combine the powdered sugar, sweet butter and egg and beat until very creamy. Spread over the crumbs.

Grind the raw cranberries and the apples and combine with the crushed pineapple. Spread over the cream mixture.

Whip the cream and spread over the layer of fruit. Sprinkle with the remaining crumbs.

Place the dessert in the refrigerator overnight. Serves about 20.

Gowned in white organdy trimmed with white Venetian lace, Miss Mary Louise Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Walters, 519 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Edward Arman Stasack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Stasack of Chicago.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fingertip length veil held in place by a crown of seed pearls. Orchids arranged on a prayer book from which white streamers fell composed her bridal bouquet.

Rev. Harold T. O'Hara officiated at the noon ceremony held June 20 at St. James Catholic church.

Miss Judy Walters, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a yellow organdy gown fashioned with an embroidered organdy bodice. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Miss Susan Walters, sister of the bride, and Miss Nancy Simon, both of Arlington Heights, and Miss Carol Payton of Park Ridge were the bridesmaids. The bridesmaids wore blue organdy gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of pink roses and white carnations, and all the attendants wore picture hats in colors matching their gowns.

Clifford Stasack, father of the groom, was best man. Joseph Sabatella of Champaign, Charles Ziesk of Glenview and Robert Wilson of Chicago were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Walters wore a muted pink tissue taffeta dress with beige accessories. The groom's mother wore a gray sheer with blue and white accessories.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Rolling Green Country club, Arlington Heights.

After July 3 the couple will make their home in Manhattan, Kan. For her wedding trip the new Mrs. Stasack wore a cocoa silk shantung suit and shoes with beige accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George W. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mc Mahon and family, Mrs. D. P. Vinette, Mrs. Arthur Whalen and Bill Whalen, Mrs. Jay Crum and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Walters, all of Iowa, Mrs. Milo Nelson of Wisconsin and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Coourer of Galena, Ill.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Playmates

Carl Antonovich, 2½, and his little brother Mark, 1½, pictured first and second above, enjoy playing together in their sand box and wading pool. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Antonovich, 352 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights.

Carl is blond-haired with brown eyes, and Mark has light brown hair and blue eyes.

One of Carl's favorite activities is riding around in his tractor and car. He is mechanically inclined and likes to help his father repair things.

Little Mark is already showing an interest in music and has fun with his little toy piano. He likes to dance, tries to sing, and enjoys listening to children's records on the phonograph.

These two boys will accompany their parents on a four-week vacation this summer, and will visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Reinsel of Royal Oak, Mich., and their grandmother, Mrs. Jenny Antonovich of Chisholm, Minn.

Brother and Sister

Lucinda Anne Grier was only 3 months old when the above picture was taken. She has red hair and blue eyes.

Her big brother, Charles, pictured next, is 3 years old and has blond hair and hazel eyes. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grier of 712 Lynden lane, Arlington Heights.

We are sorry that we were unable to contact their parents for further information.

Smiling Lad

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Craig Timothy Hesness, pictured last, is the 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hesness of 626 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Timmy, as he is called by his family, likes to be outdoors and play with his big sisters, Ann, 4, and Janet, 3.

The wading pool and sand box in his back yard are favorite attractions for this little fellow during the summer months. He also enjoyed spending a week at a Wisconsin lake with his family.

Timmy's grandparents are Olav Hagen of Arlington Hts., and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Olsen of Wautoma, Wis.

Mrs. Richard Bronwell, general chairman, announced this week that the tenth annual Antique and Hobby Show, sponsored by the Woman's Society of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights, will be held in the Methodist Meeting House September 15, 16 and 17.

Many of the larger antique dealers have already reserved space, and plans to have a select group of hobbies and table settings are already well under way.

The table settings will be planned around a "Brotherhood" theme, according to Mrs. Wilbur Inman, chairman. Exhibits of hobbies will be carefully selected and will be chosen for their uniqueness, said Mrs. Robert Barbour, president of the society, who will have charge of the hobby exhibit.

Committee chairmen, who will assist Mrs. Bronwell are: Mrs. Charles Oestmann, dealers; Mrs. Burton Bauer, stage; Mrs. Wilbur Inman, table settings; Mrs. Victor Reid, quilts; Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh, publicity; Mrs. Maynard Whitelaw, meals; Mrs. R. H. Barbour, hobbies; Mrs. Russell Walters and Mrs. Raymond LaCroiz, properties; Mrs. Milton Daniels, advertising; Mrs. Walter Sundling, dining room; Mrs. C. M. Crane, special projects, and Mrs. E. Plank, tea chairman.

Refreshments plans provide for a noon luncheon daily, a buffet supper the first evening and a "snack bar" which will be available throughout the late afternoon and evening.

Nickolas Mayer, Beverly Derron Repeat Vows

In a simple ceremony June 27, Miss Beverly Derron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, 1020 N. Kaspar, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Nicholas J. Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Mayer, 1248 Kensington ave., Arlington Heights.

Carl Behrens, Justice of the Peace, officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony held in the garden of his home in Arlington Heights.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Thomas Thompson, wore a rose suit with white accessories. She carried two white orchids.

After the service a luncheon was served at Paul Peterson's Supper club in Palatine for 25 guests including Judge and Mrs. Behrens.

A reception for the couple was held Thursday at the Mayer home. Members of the immediate families attended.

The couple left Friday morning for Florida, where they are honeymooning at the Sea Chest Apartments in St. Petersburg.

Catholic Ushers Sponsor Auction This Sunday

The ushers of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic parish in Arlington Heights are trying to help Pastor Father Harold T. O'Hara with his building fund. Three weeks ago they started to canvass parishioners for "white elephants" to be put up for auction July 19 at 1 p.m. on the parish grounds, Park st. and Mitchell ave.

President Walter Stumpf and his committees have ben busily engaged with arrangements, and through the kindness of George Pooie who provided a truck, the "elephants" have been corralled. Everyone has been working hard, and all seems ready for the big day.

Auctioneers Moehling and Stade will be on hand to conduct the affair in a professional manner. Refreshments will be available, and there is no admission charge.

The list of goods received thus far runs to a wide variety, from antiques to toys and from hand tools to T.V. sets (the committee assures that they work!).

Mr. Stumpf, on behalf of all the ushers, invites everyone in this area to come over. He points out that it won't cost anything to look, and the price can be set by the bidder.

Horticulture Society To Introduce New Summer Perennial

Gardeners who are looking for the ideal flower will welcome an opportunity to visit the extensive gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert A. Fischer of Hinsdale July 19 from 11 to 5 p.m. to see their fine collection of homerocalls in a setting resembling an English countryside landscaped with trees, shrubs and other perennials.

This Outdoor Garden Institute, one in a series sponsored by the Woman's Board of the Chicago Horticultural society, is especially interesting as the hemerocallis, commonly called daylily, is undergoing a period of development which is sure to make it one of the most popular summer-blooming perennials.

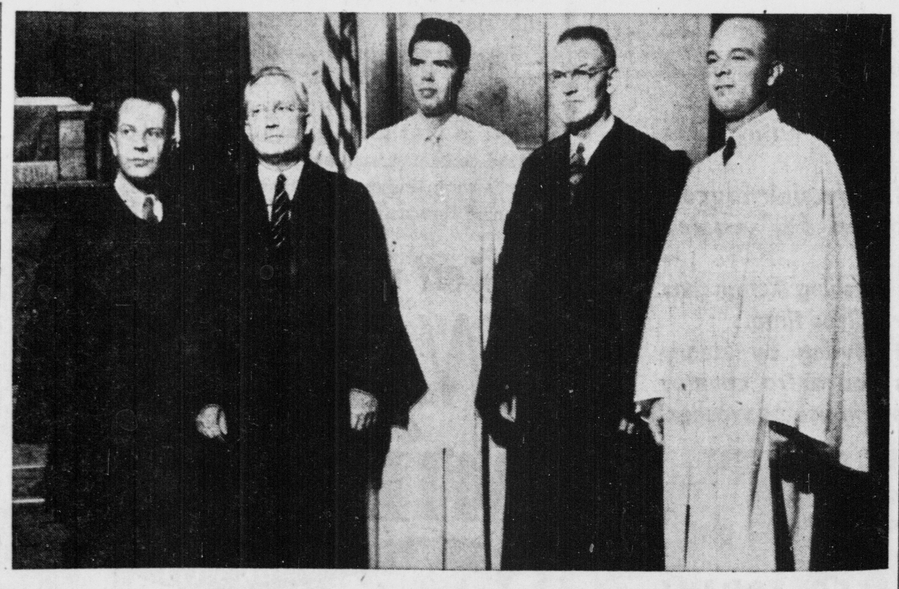

Hemerocallis are adaptable to soil of sand or clay, acid or alkaline, are little affected by insects or disease, tolerant of wetness or drought, sun or shade and hold their own against grass or weeds.

The entrance to the gardens is close to the intersection of Route 83 and 63rd st. in Hinsdale. Prominent directional arrows will be erected on Route 83 to show the way.

SPEBSQSA Picnic Sunday

The local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will hold their second annual picnic at Deer Grove, area 2, July 19.

Girl Scout News

The first two-week session of Intermediate day camp ended June 26 for girl scouts in this area. More than 100 girls participated in this program which took place at the Girl Scout House, E. River rd., Des Plaines, and brought together girls from the entire area council.

There were four units of girls and each unit chose two representatives who made up the camp council. The camp council would in turn work with the director bringing the ideas of their unit to the council and there upon arriving at what the girls would like as an all camp program.

The first week was composed of setting up units and joining in a program. It was decided that this was a good opportunity for working on the outdoor safety badge and the two older units of girls took charge. At the end of a week of extensive study, the Des Plaines Fire department sent one of its fire trucks, and with the fire chief on hand, the girls went through their outdoor safety program including a fire safety drill. The fire chief in turn explained every part of the fire engine to the girls.

A progressive luncheon was another highlight with each unit preparing their own course. The menu was planned by the camp council and a program followed.

On closing day of camp, each unit participated in putting on a circus. Each unit presented an act. There was tumbling, Indian act, clowns and a band. Their girls made their own instruments using tin cans.

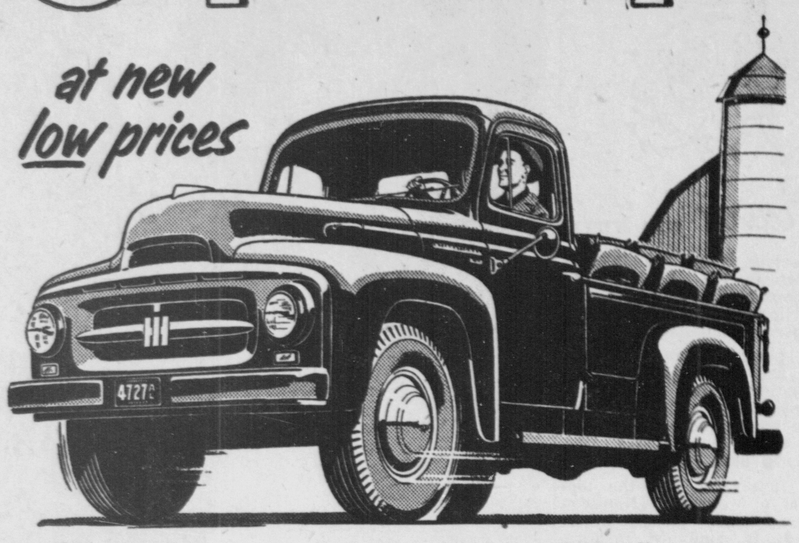

To be able to boil water on a properly built outdoor fire, how to cook in a tin can, to learn phases of first aid, latching, knots, spatter painting and to have fun with treasure and scavenger hunts were only a few of the many things the girls learned to do in a well rounded program. A program was made up from the girls' own ideas to help them to bring out their most creative ability.

The oldest unit of girls, the Junior Council Counselor unit, had as its leader, Evelyn Mikes of Des Plaines, assisted by field director Sue Harding. This was a training unit for junior counselors. Next age group was led by Virginia Johns and working with her Anna Schultz, both of Des Plaines. Next unit had as its leader Margaret Munson of Des Plaines, assisted by Barbara Brown of Mount Prospect and Gay Madeley of Des Plaines. Unit leader of the youngest group was May Olson of Des Plaines and assisting her the first week was Jeanette Clark of Arlington Heights and the second week Mrs. Lindskog of Des Plaines. Elaine Mars of Chicago also worked with the group.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

UNCOVERED FLOOR BORDERS

Too much uncovered floor border tends to make a room look choppy and disunified, and makes furniture arrangement difficult. Remember, the rug or carpet is one of the unifying elements in the room and should be large enough to amply cover the floor leaving just a narrow border that's equal all the way around.

USE A ROOM-SIZED RUG

If a standard-size rug is too small for your room, or of wrong proportions, insist on having a room-size rug or wall-to-wall carpeting. This will unify the room and make it appear larger and much more luxurious. Keep in mind that uncovered floor borders should not exceed 9 inches all around.

Violinist Mischa Elman At College Camp Sunday

The great violinist, Mischa Elman, will be soloist at the second concert of "Music by the Lake" at College camp Lake Geneva, Wis., Sunday evening, July 19, at 7:15 p. m., C. S. T.

Elman's repertoire includes some 600 works, short and long. He has a phenominal memory and delights in tossing off concert programs for visiting friends at the least provocation. The violin he plays, a 1717 Stradivarius once owned by Napoleon, is one of his three precious instruments and was presented to Mr. Elman by his wife when they were honeymooning in Paris.

The other artists in this series of "Music By the Lake" are the Moline Boys' choir, July 22; Igor Gorin, Baritone, July 26; the Chicago Symphony String Ensemble, August 2; Robert McDowell, Pianist, August 9; the John Halloran Choralists, Saturday, August 15; and Dorothy Maynor, Sunday evening Aug. 30.

At Grant Park

Thomas Schippers, the youngest conductor to have wielded a baton for opera and for the movies, will open the fifth week of concerts at Grant Park Wednesday, July 22, and will appear again as conductor of the Grant Park symphony orchestra Friday, July 24. Mr. Schippers is a conductor for the New York city opera company.

His Wednesday concert at Grant Park will be highlighted by Symphony No. 1 in C Major by Bizet and will include selections from von Weber, Bizet's "Carmen," Ravel and Dukas.

At Music Theater

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," the New York smash hit now playing at Music Theater thru Sunday, July 19, has become an even bigger hit in the intimate surroundings of theater-in-the-round than it was on Broadway.

Tuesday, July 21, another great musical will be presented for the first time in the Chicago area, when Music theater opens with George Gershwin's immortal "Girl Crazy" which is Gershwin's music at its best and Ira Gershwin's great lyrics in such hit songs as "Bidin' My Time," "Embraceable You," "I've Got Rhythm," "But Not For Me," and "When It's Cactus Time in Arizona."

"Girl Crazy" will star Music Theater's handsome young baritone, Robert Busch, in the role of Danny Churchill, a New York playboy sent to the town of Custerville, Arizona by his exasperated father who wishes to keep his son away from the bright lights of Broadway. Hilde Henke, star of several Waa-Mu shows at Northwestern university and a member of Music Theater's 1952 resident company, will play the role of Molly Gray.

NOW!
Ford Master-Guide
the last word in Power Steering!

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically . . . and in varying degrees as required . . . right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jars and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is . . . guide the car . . . Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much!

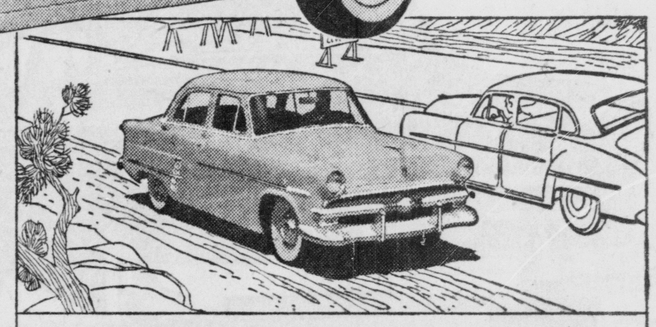

Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque convertor and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy.

Ford's new "ride" brings you road-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 80%.

Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford.

And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering . . . Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive.
Optional on all V-8 models at extra cost.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

God is man's life; this life, therefore, cannot be changed, diseased, nor destroyed. To understand this great truth enriches and happifies daily living. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 19. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be LIFE.

The Golden Text is from John 5: (26) "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him" (Luke 20: 37,38).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. Life is neither in nor of matter. What is termed matter is unknown to Spirit, which includes in itself all substance and is Life eternal" (pp. 468,469).

Since he began his utility career in 1923, Hogaboom has served in several capacities in the sub-stations departments in the company's southern division, Evanston, and presently in Skokie.

Hogaboom recently completed building his home on Hintz road and now will have more time to spend at his favorite leisure time diversions, gardening and fishing.

The Hogabooms have three sons and one daughter. Mrs. Roger E. (Sally) Meyer, 9 E. Campbell st., is a housewife, while two sons, John and Ray, reside at home and are employed in the local area. The other son, Thornton Jr., works and lives in Topeka, Kansas.

Offer Cooking Courses At Night School

Plans have been completed for the offering of two new classes in cooking in the Adult Evening school at the Arlington Heights high school beginning in the fall. Facilities in the new foods laboratory will be made available to members of the night school classes; this will be the first year that foods courses will have been offered.

One class will be given in advanced cooking, which could also be called fancy cooking, or cooking for special occasions. The art of preparing and serving attractive, unusual guest meals, special preparation of food for teas, buffet suppers, picnic dinners, bridge desserts, wedding receptions and after-theatre snacks is to be included in this attractive course; special and interesting table decorations for such occasions will also be presented. The instructor for this course is a specialist, formerly with the extension service of the University of Illinois, and is admirably qualified to present this type of instruction.

ANOTHER class in elementary cooking, which could also be called budget cooking, or pocketbook meals, will be presented to members of the Adult Evening School Division. This class will learn how to prepare meals for economy, moderate and liberal budget meals, ways to reduce food costs, planning meals and marketing for small families with school age children, platter dinners, oven dish meals, all-in-one menu course dishes and ways to save time and money in meal preparation. This class will be of special interest to the beginning home-maker.

Enrollments in both cooking classes are to be limited to 15-20 students, which is the capacity for the facilities in the new cooking laboratory. Some of the instruction will be demonstration by the instructor, while another part will be preparation by the students in the class. Facilities are available for both gas and electric cooking, as the foods laboratory is arranged in unit kitchens, having space for four students to work as a group. A staff member of the high school faculty will teach this course.

Enrollments in the Adult Evening School will be accepted during the third week in September and classes will begin the fourth week and will run for ten weeks. Most night school classes will be offered on Monday and Wednesday night. Forty-five courses were offered during each semester of last year, with a total enrollment of a little over 1200 adults for each term.

ARLINGTON WINS JR. LEGION DISTRICT BASEBALL TITLE

Playoffs Start Wednesday vs Senn Of Chicago

by BOB FRISK

Behind the effective four-hit pitching of southpaw Mike Shanklin, Arlington's Junior Legion baseball team, George C. Poole Fords, captured their second consecutive ninth district title July 8, with a convincing 3-1 win over Portage Park.

Shanklin fanned six and walked only two in going the full seven frames against the highly-touted hosts.

Last Saturday Arlington routed Park Ridge 7-1 in the initial second round contest.

NEXT GAMES on the docket for Manager Lloyd Meyer's nine will be the playoffs. In a best two of three series, the locals were scheduled to entertain the Senn Post Wednesday at 5:30, then travel to the latter's field for a contest Friday at 5:30. If a third game is necessary, a neutral field will be chosen.

In the game with Portage Park, Heights had a good scoring opportunity in both the first and second innings but Portage's hurler, Nick Kazakos, managed to pitch himself out of the jams.

Portage went ahead 1-0 in their half of the second when Casey Barszcz, the clean-up hitter, slammed a tremendous homer to deep left field.

SHANKLIN SETTLED down after that and proceeded to turn in a real clutch job of pitching. He was in trouble in each of the following five innings but never lost his control and was at his best when the going got toughest.

Arlington got their first two runs in the fourth without the aid of a base hit.

Wayne Hesch led off with a walk and went all the way to third on a sacrifice bunt by Ken Lemke.

Charley Verret was safe on an error by the shortstop and Hesch scored, tying up the game.

VERRET THEN STOLE second and Rog Thomas walked. Jack Sieburg rolled to the third baseman who threw to second, forcing Thomas, but Verret caught Portage napping, rounded third and scored the second run.

The final tally for the locals came in the sixth. With two out, Thomas walked, stole second and scored on an error.

Arlington countered twice in the second and third innings, then sent eight batters to the plate in a three run seventh.

Park Ridge scored their lone tally in the third on a walk, fielder's choice and error.

Wheeling Beats Merchants, 6-3

After winning twelve straight games, Mount Prospect Merchants Little Leaguers lost their first game to Wheeling Chamber of Commerce, 6 to 3. The Merchants played good ball but the strong defensive playing and the pitching of Cokenower was just too good.

Cokenower held Mount Prospect to five hits, with only two of them for extra bases, a home run by Kenny Grams and a triple by Art Tews. It was a tough game for Gene Dahlquist to lose as he allowed only nine hits and struck out several.

A meeting was held at the AMVETS club house in Wheeling Thursday night to pick the outstanding players of the Northwest Suburban Little League who will represent the loop in the official Little League tournament July 25.

Mount Prospect placed ten boys on this team, including Dennis Thill, David Soenksen, Arthur Tews, Fred Peterson, Fred Boedeker, Richard Erber, and Kenneth Grams, all from the Merchants team. The Lions are represented by Ed. Moehling, Randy Virgil, Allan Kruse. Wheeling has Larry Cokenower, Norman Nehmer and William Dever of the Chamber of Commerce and the AMVETS Ted Bartman. R. MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL is the biggest and fastest growing sports activity in America today. It is not a promotion of organized ball to get youngsters interested in real baseball but it is certainly having that result. It takes a long, long time for a boy to become a finished ball player. It takes much longer than that to develop a boy into a good football or basketball player or a good track performer.

That is why organized competition at the 8-12 level not only gives kids something to do that is fun during the summer vacation but it gives them a chance by the time they finish high school to know if they have any chance of being a professional player.

There are those who worry about Little League becoming too commercialized and too great pressure being exerted on young boys to win games before they are emotionally or physically ready for it.

For most communities having Little League there is little to worry about. We will grant that state and national tournaments for boys of the 8-12 age is going a bit far but the number who get that experience is very limited and the bad effects may be over exaggerated. Polls taken of parents indicated they felt the boys gained great benefit from the baseball program.

LITTLE LEAGUE activity started as a three team affair in Williamsport, Pa., in 1939, and has grown so fast that 1,810 four team leagues were operating last year in 44 states. This number is believed to have doubled this year and certainly has more than doubled in the Chicago and Great Lakes area. Right now there are 148 teams as compared with 69 last year in the Lakes Region.

This year's sectional tournament will include winners from Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and four provinces of Canada.

Harvey, Illinois, is defending champ. MIKE BERBERICH, Grant high basketball coach, is another teacher who has found there is more money in business than in education. He has resigned to work for a nationally known insurance company and will continue to reside in Fox Lake. Berberich brought Grant from a hopeless last in Northwest Conference basketball to a contender for top honors.

MIKE BERBERICH

He brought to Grant a philosophy of athletics which raised athletic morale and brought great improvement both in the attitude and performance of the school's basketball players.

Berberich has been at Grant five years. He came there fresh from an outstanding collegiate career at Indiana state college where he was tutored by Johnny Wooden, the Purdue All-American. At Mt. Carmel, his home town, he played on an outstanding high school team which won 30 and lost 3.

We have always felt Berberich was one of the best basketball coaches in the conference but that his real talents were held back by the very poor material available at Grant. Berberich was president of the Northwest Conference coaches association this past year. Grant has lost a good coach.

ANYONE WHO THINKS experience does not help in golf tournaments, as well as any other sport, is badly mistaken. Review of team scores of men competing in more than one Paddock Publications Inter-League golf handicap revealed bettering of finishing positions in four of five cases.

Gene Gutnik advanced from 3rd in '50 to 2nd in '51; Jack Patheal from 5th to 1st; Art Skelton from 5th in '50 to 3rd in '52, and Bud McKaig ranked 3rd in both '51 and '52.

Only Ed Maha dropped from 1st in '51 to 3rd in '52. Ironically, only Maha, who dropped in team position, improved his individual score from gross 105 to 93.

12 Teams Can Make Golf Tourney In Tuesday Loop

You'd almost expect to find blood on the links the way the teams are battling for the coveted honors in the Tuesday division of the Mount Prospect twilight league.

The K. R. Whitton Realtors, in last place, are less than 10 points behind George O'Day Realtors, who still cling to first place.

If one team sweeps their match they can win 10 points while their opponents get none. Thus, in one evening the entire picture can be changed. You can bet your bottom dollar that next Tuesday will find a lot of golfers trying to accomplish just such a thing.

THE O'DAY team was beaten 7 to 3 by Mt. Prospect Jewelers last Tuesday, who moved themselves up from fourth to second place. The Henry Kruse Schlitz team which was in second last week lost to Keefer's Pharmacy and dropped to fourth.

In third place is Golden's Food Shop team, last year's winner. They have been slowly edging upward, just as they did last year and last Tuesday they won 7½ points from Mt. Prospect Lions.

Two players started the evening right by scoring birdies on the first hole. The quick birdie shooters were Len Johnson Jr. and Bill Greiling. Other birdie shooters were: Chuck Wrobel, 13th; Harold Kutchera, 11th; Howard Feige 3rd.

Jamie K., Van Crosby Expected to Provide Stiffest Competition

by HARRY SHEER

The turf spotlight of the nation will center on picturesque Arlington Park during the coming week when a pair of the world's richest races will bring out Native Dancer and Jamie K. and other top challengers in the three-year-old division; among the juvenile fillies, a queen may be crowned.

The sophomore event, of course, will be the $155,000, one mile Arlington Classic, long one of the great races of the American continent.

If past history is to be taken seriously, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Native Dancer may be expected to encounter the race of his life. His tenacious foe of the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, Jamie K., retains his position as the Dancer's main antagonist, and a comparative upstart, Van Crosby, has projected himself on the scene with such a vengeancy that many astute observers believe he has some chance of upsetting them both.

The Classic will be decided on Saturday, July 18.

Native Dancer arrived this week, along with Mr. Vanderbilt, his young and very skillful trainer, Mill Winfrey, and his regular jockey, Eric Guerin.

DURING THE ensuing week, he probably will be given at least one stiff workout over the Arlington strip. Without doubt, the big, long-striding, gray colt is the greatest name horse in turf history. His Hooper rating on TV many weeks ago outstripped Dragnet, I Love Lucy, Show of Shows and video productions that have hovered at the top of the list. The Classic will be televised nationally on the Colulmbia Broadcasting System network at approximately 4:45 p.m. (CDT).

There are some turf authorities who place the Dancer above Man O'War and Citation in actual ability. His remarkable record contains only one blemish, that coming after he unleashed a spectacular late rush that fell short by inches to Dark Star in the Kentucky Derby. Prior to his Derby this year he had captured the Gotham Handicap and the Wood Memorial, and later scored in the Withers Stake, the Preakness, Belmont and Dwyer Stakes. His overall record scintillates with 15 victories in 16 starts. The $560,845 he has amassed makes him the leading money winner now in training. It is not hard to imagine that eventually he may pass Citation as the world's leading money-winner.

JAMIE K. is "not more than a pound inferior to Native Dancer," says veteran trainer John B. Partridge, an observation borne out by the past performances. The light bay son of Crowfoot-Sea Elf, by Halycon, was shy by a neck of conquering the Dancer in the Preakness and a similar margin existed between them in the Belmont Stakes.

Eddie Arcaro, who is to ride the Spring Hill Farm's star Saturday, has been quoted to the effect that in either of the races, Native Dancer would have been beaten had he encountered the slightest bit of hard luck. Jamie K. is here on the grounds and is training handsomely for his important engagement.

VAN CROSBY is definitely the proverbial "Dark horse." He has been brought along carefully with the Classic in view, after having been sidelined during the winter because of a series of circumstances.

His original owner, Jerry McCarthy, passed away during this period and Van Crosby was laid up for repairs. He was about ready to return to hard training when the estate decided he must be auctioned. Perne L. Grissom, owner of Duntreath, obtained him for $38,000.

Hot-Ten-Tots Beat Palatine, 6-4, But Not Much Clowning

by MOOSE FOSTER

The Hot-Ten-Tots of Chicago, all-colored team of championship fame, found Palatine too tough for foolishness Sunday night, though winning, 6-4, in seven innings. The lead was not large enough to permit the usual clowning.

Dick Heiden, on the mound for Palatine, was at his best as he held the travelers in check. The local hitters were also stopped though Whitey Hefferan lined one homer.

The Hot-Ten-Tots first baseman, also a Globetrotter basketball forward, provided the crowd with many laughs with his motions and chatter.

THIS SUNDAY, July 19, Palatine will entertain the Aurora Steelmasters. The visitors have lost just six games of 23 played this season. They have defeated such teams as Joliet Caterpillars, Harvey Moose, Peoria Caterpillars and LaSalle.

Palatine lost to the Steelmasters earlier this year. Since that time the local nine has improved greatly, particularly the twirling with Heiden on the mound.

As in all home games, the Palatine merchants will be donating many prizes. Last week 21 merchandise awards were given, including potato chips for the entire crowd by the Palatine A & P.

Prospect Hts. Little Leaguers Beat Mt. Pros. South Side Team

After losing three successive games by one run to Mt. Prospect teams, Prospect Heights finally nailed a victory to the wall, and they did it in a decidedly convincing manner with a 17 to 1 win over the Mt. Prospect South Side B team.

Don Haley went all the way for the winners and gave up just three hits while his mates were collecting ten solid base knocks.

Mike Dundy and Tip Yager led the batting attack for Prospect Heights. Dundy belted a round tripper over the center fielder's head in the fourth and followed with a double in the fifth, while Yager came through with three hits, a double and two singles.

Prospect Heights will play the Mt. Prospect North Side B team Thursday, July 16.

Frank Withey, Charles Smith, Jr., Take Blind Bogey at Inverness

Frank Withey with an 88 and Charles Smith Jr. with an 84 were the winners in the blind bogey at Inverness golf club last week end which featured veterans day. Over $125 was raised for veterans and through entries in the blind bogey competition.

Next week Thursday is a big day for the men golfers at Inverness when the annual "Scramble Fest" outing is held at the club with luncheon, golf, dinner, special entertainment and many prizes.

Last Friday William E. Schultz of 1229 Ash st., Winnetka, shot a hole in one on the 165 yard 18th at Inverness. He was a guest of Malcolm Smith. Others in his foursome were Dudley Sullivan, David Murphy and J. W. Pierce. The feat was all the more unusual in that it was accomplished with a number two wood club.

W. G. Franke entered the final round of the Stan Arendt trophy tournament last Saturday when he defeated H. John 9 & 8. Franke who has an 18 handicap really had a fine first nine with a 39 to pile up a lead which helped the match on the 10th green. Franke will meet the winner of the Courtney-Hertel semi-final match for the Stan Arendt trophy.

In the blind partner tournament the ladies held at Inverness Wednesday of last week winners were Jayne Hodgson and Joan Buehler with a net 77. In second were Hazel Leavitt and Polly Seehausen with a net 83. Polly also won the putting prize.

Wheeling Amvets Lose to Mt. Prospect Merchants

Wheeling Amvets Little League team traveled to Mt. Prospect Monday night, encountered the Mt. Prospect Merchants and came out on the short end, 14-10. Their play showed decided improvement, especially in their hitting. The Amvet team tallied all ten runs against one of the Merchants' top hitters, Fred Petersen.

Dick Less started pitching for the Amvets and after two innings was relieved by Teddy Bartmann, who held the hard hitting Merchants to two runs in the last three innings.

That same night, the game played by the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce and Mt. Prospect Lions here at Wheeling was called after eight innings, due to darkness, with a tied score of 5-5. This game will be played off at a later date.

Arlington Softball Teams Open Traveling Schedule

Arlington Heights park district softball teams opened their traveling schedule against Barrington this week with all three squads winning games. The local Juniors won, 8-1, the Intermediates, 20-3, and the midgets, 23-3.

Lockwood and Holznagel notched two hits in four times at bat for the Heights Juniors, with the latter's blows a homer and triple. Other local round-trippers were slugged by Reinke and Klehm.

TWO HOME runs and two doubles — that was the first game's accumulation of four hits in five times at the plate for Jim Meehan as the Heights Intermediates took their first traveling contest. Allen Sander socked a homer, two doubles and a single.

Other extra base hits were a double by Bob Barbour and a triple by Bob Bennerr. Wayne Meyer is batting 1.000 with three singles. Bob Barbour has three for five, as does Dave Koceja.

THE ARLINGTON Midget traveling team is batting .565. Jim Quackenbush has hit a triple, double and two singles in four times at bat. Bill Burfeind is holding down a .750 average, with a homer and two singles.

Three .500 hitters include Tom Barron (two doubles), Ed O'Gara and Paul Heitz, all with two safeties in four times at bat. Jim Clabaugh has two for three.

Next games for the travelers is at Maryville Wednesday and at Barrington Thursday.

BOTH BASKETBALL and football clubs have been formed in the parks with the cagers meeting Friday afternoons at 1:30, the would-be gridders Wednesday afternoons at 1:30. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons are earmarked for either inter-park or traveling games.

Tournaments for the coming Lions Olympics have already been started by recreation director Russ Attis. Boys and girls interested in competing for both medals (first three places) and ribbons (next two places) are urged to report for competition.

Tournaments for the boys will include free throw, horse shoes and shuffleboard. For the girls it will be shuffleboard, volleyball and croquet. More girls are needed in the recreation program, according to Mr. Attis.

Palatine Spartas Win North Shore League Game at Waukegan

by MOOSE FOSTER

The Palatine Spartans, a team composed of all local boys, played Sunday afternoon at Waukegan against the Pan-Americans and won, 20-7. This was the first game of the third round of play.

Palatine notched a total of 24 hits, including a home run by Paul Schrage, who led the attack on three opposing pitchers. Frankie Hummel allowed only eight hits for Palatine and had ten strikeouts.

Next home game for the hardball team will be Saturday night at 6:00 p. m. and Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. on the high school diamond.

'Long, Short And The Tall' Thru The All-Star Game

Passes — long ones, shorties and screen tosses — are bound to be the outstanding deceptive plays the night of August 14 in Soldiers' field when the collegiate All-Stars battle the Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football league, in the 20th annual contest sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

What else can the spectators expect with Bobby Layne of the Lions matching pitches with Tommy O'Connell of Illinois, Jack Scarbath of Maryland and Dale Samuels of Purdue. Followers of professional football know what Layne did to the conference last fall as he paced the Lions to their first championship since 1935.

Midwest fans are well aware of the passing ability of O'Connell and Samuels. The same holds true of Scarbath, who was voted the outstanding player in the Southern Conference.

SAMUELS' three year college mark is 259 completions in 516 attempts for 3,154 yards and 27 touchdowns. The five foot, nine inch, 169 pound Chicagoan was at his best when the chips were down. A large number of his scoring touchdowns came when Purdue was striving to tie or go out in front of its opponent. Dale first sprung into national prominence when he engineered Purdue to a 28 to 14 upset over Notre Dame in 1950 when he was a sophomore and the Irish were boasting an undefeated streak of 39 games.

Busse Motors Take First In Wednesday Golf

The fairways and greens at Mt. Prospect country club were soaked with tears Wednesday night as Mt. Prospect State Bank was evicted from its old homestead, first place, and dumped into third place by the perennial hopefuls, Busse Motors, 7½ to 2½. The Bankers had occupied first in the Wednesday night division of the Mt. Prospect twilight golf league since they captured it from the same Busse Motors May 13 and had become mighty attached to the spot. Under the circumstances there definitely can be no truth to the rumor the Bankers deliberately dropped a place or two in standings to stimulate interest in the league.

Second place went to Barclay-Clearbrook as they engineered a brilliant 9½ to ½ victory over Hook's Nursery, while Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes quietly slipped into fourth after a 7½ to 2½ win over Illinois Range. The Bowling Lanes team, incidentally, is proving the "sleeper" of the league with a record of consistent victories since they climbed out of the cellar May 20.

Birdies were scored by Harold Johnson, No. 7; Carl Oscarson and Len Johnson, Jr., No. 8; and Mike Weber and Bert Quinnell, No. 13.

League standing July 8:

Busse Motors	64 3/4
Barclay-Clearbrook Eng.	63
Mt. Prospect State Bank	61 1/6

Jr. Legion Edges Redwings, 1-0

After agreeing to a swap in pitchers, the Arlington Redwings found themselves on the weak end of a 1-0 shutout in a 12-inning baseball marathon against the ninth district champion Arlington Junior Legion team at Recreation park, Arlington Hts., Sunday afternoon.

Redwing pitchers Paul Lang and Bill Stretton handled the mound chores for the juniors for seven innings when Legion pitcher Mike Shanklin came on in the eighth to limit the Redwings to four scattered hits in the final five frames. Lang, after pitching the first three innings for the Legion, returned to hurl the last nine for the Redwings. Stretton pitched the first three for the Redwings.

THE LEGION broke the tie in the twelfth when Thomas singled, went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Ted Bakalar and scored on a single by Jack Sieburg. Both teams played errorless ball.

The game was scheduled when the original contest between the Redwings and the Ford Aircraft Engineers of South Chicago was forfeited due to the latter disbanding.

This week the Redwings play host to Chicago Tigers, a team the locals defeated, 7-6, June 28. Game time 3 p. m.

Tell How To Compute Handicap For Paddock Golf Tournament

Banker, nursery, realtor, furniture maker—thus read the occupations of former winners of Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament scheduled this year August 16 at Inverness country club First place teams of eight local leagues August 1 will be eligible for the big event, with the large traveling trophy, twelve medals, and one dozen K-28 golf balls from Bensenville Sport 'n Work hanging in the balance.

First winner of the tournament, back in 1950, was Arlington Heights National Bank of the Arlington league competing at Mt. Prospect country club. Next was Hook's Nursery of the Mt. Prospect league's Wednesday division. Last year a tie between Wulbecker Furniture of Rob Roy league and Whitton Realtors of Mt. Prospect Tuesday loop existed.

A flip of the coin determined the furniture name on the trophy, though duplicate first place medals were awarded to both squads.

JUST WHO will be in the tournament this time is impossible to predict. Two and three weeks of play still remain for final determination of eligibles, though a couple of the squads have commanding leads that make them hard to beat.

The Steging foursome in the Bensenville VFW league has a ten point margin. Pine's Motel is favored in the Arlington Heights league in view of its nine point lead.

Otherwise it's anybody's guess as leading margins are a single point in two leagues, a pair in two others. Ten points is all that's separating first from last in one loop.

LAST YEAR Golden's Food Shop in Mt. Prospect came up fast to win the league championship, but was out of first the one important week when Whitton Realtors moved up. The delicatessen boys regained top spot a week later, but too late, though their league's representatives did gain the aforementioned tie for first.

Winning nets the three years of the tournament have been 285, 301, 286.

Handicap for the tournament will be computed thus: Eighty per cent of the difference between a player's average nine hole score and par for the course on which he plays, including fractions, is to be multiplied by two to obtain the 18-hole handicap. The nearest figure, under or at/over .5 will be used.

Bacterial Wilt Causes Sweet Corn Dance

Bacterial wilt has been causing severe damage in sweet corn in southern and central Illinois.

M. B. Linn, University of Illinois plant disease specialist, reports that some sweet corn fields in Tazewell, Woodford, Iroquois and Vermilion counties will be plowed up. In some areas, he says, three-fourths or more of the stalks show wilt damage.

YOUNG PLANTS affected by bacterial wilt, also known as Stewart's disease, wilt and die. The lower part of the stalk may be completely rotted. In older plants the disease shows up in pale-green or yellowish to brown streaks in the leaves, bleached tassels and stunting of plants.

Linn says that some of the older plants may live through the disease if the infection isn't too bad.

Bacteria causing the wilt live over the winter in the corn flea beetles, Linn explains, and last year's mild winter didn't kill many of the beetles. The Illinois Natural History Survey reports that a second brood of these insects is appearing. Plant pathologists of the Survey predicted in April that the disease would cause trouble this year.

PRINCIPAL WAY to control bacterial wilt is to plant corn that is resistant to the disease. Golden Cross Bantam, the most resistant variety in Illinois, has suffered more than normally from wilt this year.

Not too much is known about the use of chemicals, Linn says, although the State Natural History Survey is working on it. DDT and other chemicals, they have found, will control the beetle, but when and where to use them to keep beetles out of the fields, they don't know.

Buy Breeding Stock Free Of Brucellosis

Freedom from brucellosis is just as important as appearance and blood lines when you're buying new sows or gilts to add to your swine herd.

The University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says it pays to insist on brucellosis-free stock. Infected swine can spread the disease to healthy sows, causing them to abort, become sterile, or have weak or dead pigs. Also, many cases of undulant fever in humans are caused by brucellosis-infected swine.

If you're going to buy new breeding stock, ask to see the herd's blood test record, the veterinary college suggests. Be sure the herd has been proved healthy by at least one recent test.

In case the herd has not been tested recently, try to get it done before you buy. Even if the animals are negative it will still pay to quarantine them for 30 to 60 days when you get them home. Then retest the new animals before you add them to your herd.

Spread of brucellosis by infected boars should no longer be a serious problem in Illinois. A state law requires that boars be tested and found free of the disease before they or their services can be sold.

Farm Electrification No Mystery To 4-H Boy; Builds "Feed Factory"

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farm boys are doing things with electricity these days which have their dads standing around in amazement. The power equipment emerging from their workshops is being put to immediate and effective use in various ways. Many of these youngsters are members of 4-H Clubs who learned the basic rudiments of farm electrification applications at club meetings or in vocational agriculture classes.

Above, Alabama 4-H Club boy goes to work with his home-made corn "feed factory."

There's no section of the country which has a corner on the ingenuity of youth. Scattered throughout the land are some 80,000 4-H members who participate in electrical projects as one of their regular club activities. Often electricity is tied in directly with their other farm projects. In doing so, many of the boys develop new equipment or modify existing machinery to help them speed up their work, or to make it easier to do and more economical. This was the case with a 17-year-old Alabama nigh school boy.

He and his father operate a small farm, as well as conduct a small business to build and sell metal awnings. As "part-time" farmers they lean heavily on electrical equipment to help them with their chores. One of these is raising beef and dairy cattle. Buying ground feed seemed like a waste of money, particularly since corn is grown—and could be ground—on the home farm. The boy decided to do something about it—and did.

What he devised is shown in connection with this story. The youngster calls it a corn "feed factory." The unusual machine combines a corn sheller and grinder. It is operated by an electric motor and supplies enough crushed feed for the entire herd. Ear corn is inserted in the top of the machine and ground grain is chuted out the bottom. The stripped ears fall into a second chute and drop into a sack on the side of the machine.

Better Year for Poultrymen This Year

This year looks much better for poultry farmers than last year turned out to be.

Farmers sold more poultry and eggs last year than ever before, but Elmer Broadbent, University of Illinois farm economist, says that feed costs were high most of the year, and farmers got comparative low prices for eggs and turkeys. They didn't net nearly so much as they had netted the year before.

This year, Broadbent says, farmers will be likely to take in more from eggs and poultry than they did in 1951. Egg prices during the important spring months have been at record-high levels and feed costs have been about the same as they were in 1951.

More important, Broadbent says, high egg prices have not induced farmers to increase numbers of early-hatched pullets.

He expects increases in late-hatched chicks, but the increases for the season as a whole will run considerably below what might have been expected.

Two New Drugs to Halt Chinch Bugs

Chinch bugs and army worms have met their match. Both dieldrin and toxaphene stop the chinch bug, and dieldrin controls army worms quicker than any other killer tried.

A report in Capper's Farmer states that last season dieldrin sprays on strips 20 to 40 feet wide around margins of chinch bug infested fields, just as migration was about to start, gave good control. So did toxaphene dust barriers or sprays.

Farmers who used dieldrin earlier this summer, during one of the worst army worm outbreaks ever seen in the Corn Belt, report that worms stopped feeding in two hours and were dead in 24 to 30 hours.

Both of these chemicals are poisonous to livestock and man. Do not harvest treated small grain strips immediately after treatment, and do not feed contaminated straw or forage, cautions the farm magazine.

Must Use Care In 2,4-D Spraying

Farm adviser, Carl F. Mees, has issued a special warning to 2, 4-D operators to be cautious of 2, 4-D drifting. Many crops, including tomatoes, soybeans and clovers, are injured by 2, 4-D. Serious injury has resulted in many areas of the country.

Drifting occurs and causes damages as far as a mile away from the field sprayed and takes place up to 48 hours after the spraying has been done.

MEES REPORTS that in some cases the wind has shifted 24 hours after the spray was applied and serious damage has resulted on tomatoes opposite the direction from which the wind was originally from.

Ester types of 2, 4-D are more effective against weeds than are the amine or sodium salt types but are more apt to do damage also.

* * *

MEES STRESSED that 2, 4-D operators should use precautions in applying 2, 4-D rather than being sorry after the damage is done.

Remember, 2, 4-D is not a complete substitute for cultivation or other cultural practices.

PMA Committee Elections Now Being Held

PMA farmer committee elections are currently being held in over 1500 communities throughout the state of Illinois, according to an announcement issued by Harry M. Combrink, chairman of the state PMA committee.

These elections are being held by mail so that each eligible farm owner and operator can mark his ballot in the confines of his own home. The final date for turning in a ballot is July 20.

"THESE ELECTIONS," commented chairman Combrink, "assume new importance this year because of acreage allotments and possible marketing quotas on additional crops." These are programs carried out by local committees. At the present time PMA committees are in the process of establishing allotments for the 1954 wheat crop, and a referendum has just been called to determine if wheat quotas will be in effect.

In addition to work in connection with allotments and quotas, PMA committeemen are responsible for the local administration of the agricultural conservation program, price support operations and, in some counties, various aspects of the federal crop insurance program. These are all matters which affect the operations of each and every farmer.

IN EACH community a local committee, consisting of three regular members and two alternates, will be elected, along with a delegate to the county convention. The delegates will then meet and elect a county committee, consisting of a chairman, vice chairman, member, and two alternates. The term of office is for one year and all newly elected committeemen are scheduled to take office on August 3.

Mr. Combrink pointed out that practically all farmers are eligible to vote in this election. "It is our sincere hope," he said, "that each and every eligible farmer will cast his vote."

Texas Drouth Means Low Prices For Feeder Calves And Yearlings

Extreme drouth in the Southwest is forcing many cattle to market. These forced sales may provide cattle feeders with opportunities to buy feeder calves and yearlings, or cows and calves, at favorable prices.

The drouth is worst in the western halves of Texas and Oklahoma and in the adjoining parts of states to the north and west. Official reports from Texas say that no general rain has fallen since September 1950. Some areas of the Southwest have been suffering from drouth for four and five years.

PASTURES ARE burned up. Wheat and feed crops are failures. Water supplies have dwindled. Farmers' credit has been stretched to the breaking point. In at least one county more than half of the farm families have moved away.

Half or more of the sheep have been shipped out, and cattle numbers are being drastically reduced. Forced sales of cattle brought a sharp drop in prices of stockers and feeders in June. The break began about a week earlier this time than it did last year.

Recent prices for stocker and feeder cattle have averaged from $12.00 to $15.00 per cwt. at different central markets. Reported prices in the drouth areas range all the way from around $5.00 to $8.00 for stock cows and low-grade stockers up to $12.00 to $16.00 for best calves and yearlings. Some distress sales have been reported at even lower figures. These prices are 40 to 50 per cent lower than those of a year earlier.

EVEN AT THESE lower prices corn-belt cattle feeders have been slow to take on more cattle. They remember the little profits and many losses in 1951-52. And they see more and bigger losses on the cattle they have on hand now.

Still, cattle bought at these lower prices may make a good feeder a little money. Prices for feeder cattle have dropped more than prices of replacement stock. If the drouth is relieved, cattle marketings may be little or no greater in 1954 than in 1953. Marketings have increased to normal in recent months, and they may not increase a lot more.

Then, too, feed supplies promise to be very abundant, and probably cheaper than in the past year.

AHEAD, ALSO, are possibilities of acreage allotments and marketing quotas on wheat and corn, and these would favor increased production and feeding of roughage-consuming livestock.

On the demand side, no big depression seems likely for at least another year or so. Government has several tricks, like tax reduction, that would pep up the economy if it slows down.

Finally, the production of pork is still trending downward. The supply probably will run 10 to 12 per cent below year-earlier levels until midwinter; then it will be no larger, and probably slightly smaller, than this year's supply. Reduced supplies of pork should give a little support to the cattle market.

All of these facts seem to call for Illinois farmers to watch the developing situation carefully to see what opportunities for profit it offers.

Illinois Canners Top The Output of European Nations

Illinois farmers grow a greater volume of vegetable crops for the state's canning industry than the individual production of vegetables packed by four leading Western European countries, American Can company reported.

Illinois canners and freezers processed 358,600 tons of vegetables during 1952, more than three-fourths the combined volume of vegetables packed by the United Kingdom, France, the Netherlands, and Germany, Dr. H. E. Michl, economist for the firm which manufactures millions of can annually for the state's canners, said.

Soil Test Is a Good Investment

In the course of a week the postman delivers a good many pieces of mail to the Farm Bureau office, says Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees.

One of the questions farmers frequently ask of the Extension Service is "Can I test my own soil?"

Soil-testing kits are on the market, and a few farmers have tested their own soils successfully. But generally the soils are sent to the Farm Bureau Laboratory for testing.

The laboratory not only tests the soil, but will provide specific recommendations for treatment, based on the results of the test. The small charge for the soil test is one of the very best investments a farmer can make because the returns from increased crop yields are worth many times the cost of the tests.

For more information on testing soil for higher crop yields, contact your farm adviser.

Four Factors Keep Farm Prices Up

Four economic factors govern farm prices, and those forces are now evenly divided in their effects.

G. L. Jordan, University of Illinois farm economist, says that two of them — consumers' ability to buy and their willingness to buy — are helping to keep farm prices up.

The other two — the foreign market and the supply of farm produce — are tending to bring farm prices down.

The money supply, Jordan says, has increased steadily since 1949, and the money consumers have left after taxes has increased too. Along with this trend has been a stronger demand in this country for farm products.

Lower farm prices have been caused by other forces.

Until 1952 the demand from foreign countries came to our rescue, Jordan explains. Though farmers marketed large crops, there were buyers for them. Last year the export demand was down quite a bit, and it won't be any better this year.

As a result, Jordan explains, our carry-overs of some farm commodities are at near-record levels. With present crop predictions, there is little chance of a rise in farm prices.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Square Locates Center

A SIMPLE use of the steel square easily locates the center of any board. The first step is to draw a straight line across the board, using the square. Now situate the square, as shown in the illustration from American Builder, so that the readings are identical at either edge where the line meets the square. The center mark will coincide with the point of the square.

Bits O' Business

Texas and California want the rules for cotton acreage curbs changed to preserve their big expansion of the last three years . . . Advertising outlays increase as manufacturers meet more sales resistance . . . Home builders rejoiced when a Senate committee voted to let President Eisenhower lower down payments on homes . . . Spring pigs were 10 per cent fewer than last year, and the fall crop is expected to decline 5 per cent from fall, 1953.

Tells 5 Steps To Help Solve Dairy Surplus

Five immediate steps which might help solve the problem of huge dairy surpluses are listed in an article appearing in the July issue of The Record, official publication of the Illinois agricultural association.

Without further delay, here's what the dairy marketing specialist believes should be done.

1) REDUCE PRICE supports on butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk solids from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

2) Urge retail milk distributors to lower their prices after price supports are lowered.

3) Urge consumers to buy more fluid milk and milk products.

4) Expand the school lunch program.

5) Draft a state law that would require minimum butterfat content to be labeled on each bottle of milk sold.

THE FIRST STEP of lowering price supports is considered essential in view of huge surpluses of dairy products that have built up, in part, as a result of high rigid price supports.

Lower price supports would restore a healthy competitive relationship between dairy products and animal fat substitutes, Bartlett believes.

If price supports were lowered from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, the approximate retail price of butter would be 54 cents a pound. Historically, all the nation's butter sold rapidly at a price differential of 17 cents with vegetable fat substitutes.

The 75 per cent support price would restore this differential

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I have known Betty for the past five or six years. She is a young, attractive, married woman, with three children. Her husband, a hard working man in a financial organization, not too long ago became vice-president of the company, and is in line for the presidency. They have a good income.

From what I have told you, you might believe that Betty is a happy, secure young woman, blessed with three happy children, and a husband who loves her very much. All this is true, but for one thing. Betty is neither happy, nor secure.

ALTHOUGH she is a strong young woman, with high intelligence and a fine education, she never does anything for herself. A maid and a cleaning woman cares for her house, a landscape gardener cares for the yard and flowers. She has no hobbies, no interests in life — except herself. All the wealth in the world, all the love and care of a good husband and fine children, will not make that woman happy — for one reason; herself.

Symptoms of her inward unrest are the numerous changes she has made around the place; redecorating every year; tearing out the landscaping around the house; buying new furniture and giving the old away almost continuously; new clothes for every occasion; a feverish, to my mind pitiful, desire to attend club meetings and other activities where she makes few, if any, friends.

EVENTUALLY she will become old, sour and lonely, with an inward feeling that no one understands her and everyone abuses her. The truth is that she does not understand herself. She is her own worst enemy. She is like a child of ten or twelve in her emotions.

Believe me, you and I have seen people like this time and time again. There is only one way for such people to help themselves; through learning to understand themselves; to make one's self capable, interested and interesting. To do things for one's self rather than to expect only to command and to be obeyed. No one can win the respect and love of other people until they learn to become the sort of person they themselves can respect and love. Betty can never buy happiness or security; such things have to be deserved.

Banks Help Farmers With Needed Loans

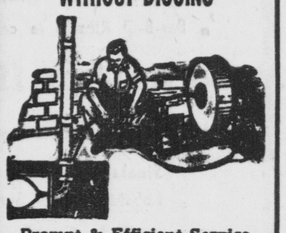

During 1952 Illinois farmers called upon the state's banks to provide them with more credit than was extended by any other type of farm lending agency, according to Carl Hammerl, executive vice president, Mount Prospect State bank, who represents the Illinois bankers association as Cook county agricultural key banker.

Quoting from the twelfth annual study of farm lending by the agricultural commission of the American bankers association, Mr. Hammerl noted that on January 1, Illinois banks had loans totaling $248,209,000 oustanding to farmers, compared with $222,109,000 held by all other principal lending agencies combined.

"As they have in the past, the state's farmers continued last year to turn mostly to their banks when they needed credit," Mr. Hammerl said. "The amount of credit the farmer needs to run a successful operation is much larger today than it was in past decades," he continued. "Farming is now a mechanized, highly competitive enterprise; and operating a profitable farm involves a much greater investment in machinery and modern agricultural methods. Hence, adequate funds are a prime concern to the farm operator. Meeting his needs for operating credit is one of the most important services of Illinois banks."

'Curious Savage' at Chevy Chase Tuesday

"Curious Savage," hilarious comedy by famed John Patrick is the attractive play that will launch the sixth successful week of the Chevy Chase summer theatre.

Ann Blager and Vera Ward, stars of stage, radio and television, have been signed to play the leading roles in the new laugh riot. They augment the regular cast of the Chevy Chase Ensemble.

The John Patrick play is a clean wholesome laugh hit designed to please all members of the family. Most of the action takes place in a mental institution with one insane situation after another.

The mother placed there by her step-children has had all the assets of her late husband converted into cash and convertible securities. It is not until after her incarceration the children learn their mistake. "Curious Savage" is fast moving and funny throughout.

'On Borrowed Time' At Showcase Theatre

The Paul Osborn drama, a touching and delightfully warm comedy, "On Borrowed Time," is now playing through July 26 with Wednesday matinee at 2:30 p. m., at Evanston's air conditioned Showcase theatre.

"On Borrowed Time" features Arthur Peterson as the rough but kindly old "Gramps," and Ronald Keith as the small boy, "Pud," who is devoted to the old man; with Frederick Rolf playing the unwelcome Mr. Brink, who personifies Death. "On Borrowed Time" is a fascinating story of an old man who chased Death up a tree and held him there thru a clever ruse.

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money." — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Do You Recognize Palatine Principal Of Sixty Years Ago?

The editor as one of the pupils of the late W. L. Smyser, principal of the Palatine high school from 1892 to 1902, recommended the above picture be printed in this department. There are many residents of Palatine and neighboring towns who benefited by the teaching of this man.

Those were the days of corporal punishment in the school room which Mr. Smyser seldom used, but he had a horror of boys who played truant and did not hesitate to leave the schoolroom and invaded the customary hangout of the boys in one of the local stores where he was known to reach under the counter, grab a boy by his coat collar, and march him to school, which solved the truancy problem permanently. He possessed a strength of character that won the respect of every pupil, few of whom dared to smoke in his presence. They would hide their cigarettes as he aprpoached them on the street.

He was a Latin and Greek scholar and those who did not come prepared in those languages were frequently told, "I guess we will have a little session after school tonight."

He was superintendent of the Palatine Methodist Sunday school many years and a civic leader. He left Palatine in 1902 in order to start to organize and become the first principal of Maine Township high school.

He later became one of the best loved principals in the Chicago school system.

Fifty Years Ago

Wm. Schoenbeck came in Tuesday to renew his subscription to the Cook County Herald and Daily Interocean, both for one year for $4.

The editor prayed for rain last week. The answer came in copious showers Sunday and Monday night.

Many Northwestern employees are jubliant that they will be hereafter paid semi-monthly in accordance with the new law that went into effect July 1.

Snake In The Cruiser

Imagine the surprise of two Columbus, Ohio, policemen who returned to their cruiser to find a 10-foot boa constrictor curled up on the front seat. The snake, stiff from the cold, was thawed out at the station house and returned to its owner, an animal collector.

Mosquito Control

A question came up at the last meeting of the Arlington Heights village board relative to the effectiveness of the present mosquito abatement program, and whether or not it should be continued.

To date there have been three foggings of the entire town, and the contract we have with the Clark Outdoor Spraying Company specifies a total of at least seven foggings. The cost per fogging is $440.00.

Special equipment developed for mosquito control is used by the contractor. This equipment, by pressure and heat, breaks up the light weight oil base, in which the insecticide is placed, into microscopic particles which penetrate the smallest openings. Fogging, in order to be most effective, is done in the evening, and the ideal weather condition would be with a slight wind to carry the fog.

In Arlington Heights the fogging equipment has normally been traveling the north and south streets since our winds are mostly westerly.

The timing of the fogging is determined by weather conditions and by the mosquito flight, the size of which are shown by the mosquito traps the contractor has placed around the outskirts of town. Normally you could expect a spraying o be made about two weeks after a heavy rainfall, for at that time the mosquito flight brought about by the rain will have reached town. Fogging kills only the mosquitos that are already here and if the timing of the fogging is off and the flight is still coming in, the fogging will appear to be ineffective.

Any mosquito abatement program is one of control only, for no method is presently known that will kill all and still keep new ones away. We can only hope to make your yards and homes more pleasant by lessening the nuisance.

Your Village Board would like to know how effective you think this program has been. Is it worth the money we are spending? Should we continue it —or should it be stopped?

Please write a postcard (please don't phone), to the village clerk, Carl Weinrich, village hall, Arlington Heights. Thank you.

I have had such good luck with response to my paid for sale ads in your papers, that I'm wondering if you could give us some publicity for items needed for Camp Reinberg.

Each week or so we get a list of items which they need for their work with the underprivileged children. I'm appealing to you for help. These items are, of course, gratis, and are expected to be used but in usable condition.

Keep Fireworks

No doubt the writer of the letter in last weeks issue, criticizing the American Legion for squandering $1,000 for the 4th of July fireworks display, gave the matter much consideration and in at least one instance I agree with him, but I wish he had thought about it just a little longer. If he did he might have drawn the conclusion I have.

True, the $1,000 could have contributed to any one of the constructive projects suggested by Mr. Peterson in his letter, but can you put a price on the memories our little ones have stored up or the thrills they received on the spot, by the brilliant flashes, which I'm sure neither "blinded their eyes nor deafened their ears."

Demonstrations such as these probably contribute much to the fact that our country is spared demonstrations such as the ones that occurred in Communist Germany recently. I could mention the safety factor in having a concentrated display of fireworks as opposed to indiscriminate individual displays, but I haven't taken the time to investigate and uncover the statistics on it, so I'll close with some of the conclusions that I have made.

The fourth of July is Independence Day. Why have independence if we can't enjoy, yes, even celebrate it? While not denying the commercial attraction of the display namely drawing the crowds to the carnival grounds, I would like to defend the American Legion as a constructive civic organization of which our community can be justifiably proud.

Isn't it wonderful that our children are privileged to view brilliant fireworks bursting in the air instead of "the bombs bursting in air" as mentioned in our own Star Spangled Banner?

My last thought is more in the form of a silent prayer, that our citizens are never deprived of the occassions to celebrate in any way they choose, our American Independence.

Dog Column

It was with considerable interest I read the July 2 release on "Just Dogs"; as a newcomer in this territory and novice in the dog field, I marveled at the allotted space given this sport that bids well for the Chicago papers to fall similarly in line.

It was amazing that the second biggest show in the United States received but scant attention in our Chicago International; not one of the papers had a decent write up on the subject, but did at the time devote column after column as to what all the rookies were doing down Florida and Texas way in baseball. Perhaps they have no qualifier reporter on the subject?

At any rate the ignoring of the subject in those papers has given rise to many dog-interested persons a feeling of resentment, particularly since results of all breeds at a show are mighty difficult to procure until only after months have passed with formal publication in the AKC Gazette. A capable reporter at any of the shows around Chicago could make a "hit" with such public.

I was especially pleased about your mention of the "Master's Voice," because as a kid, I had always wanted to own a dog just like that, but it never came to pass. It is gratifying to learn at any rate that some one did own just that dog!

Non-Racing Drivers

We, the undersigned residing on W. Euclid and adjacent there to, wish to express our appreciation of the understanding and prompt action of yourself, the other trustees, Chief Skoog and the police force in the efficient manner in which you have recently controlled the race traffic.

We believe you can realize how thankful we are knowing that in case of an emergency we now have access to our driveways and can leave and return to our homes since the cars from the race track have been retained in their proper lane, (peace of mind is wonderful) rather than allowing the former practice of using the entire street including the parkways as an exit from the track.

We are very thankful our children and property are now safe and protected since these drivers are now required to observe the village laws even as you and ourselves are expected to do.

We sincerely hope you will continue to control this traffic during the racing season and will gladly lend our voices in backing you and the police force in maintaining village laws.

Final Carnivals

Two years ago the board of commissioners of the Arlington Heights park district unanimously concluded that the summer carnivals had outgrown the Douglas ave. location, and so informed the organizations.

Last year, on the plea of the American Legion that it had made commitments for the summer of 1953, the park district granted permits with the understanding that a diligent effort to obtain a new location would be made and that Recreation park would not be used for carnivals in the future. This conclusion was arrived at after hearing those concerned, and the decision was concurred in by the village board of trustees.

Since that time there has been no change in the circumstances which would alter the views of the park district. One of the commissioners has been available to work with a committee representing the organizations, but I have not been informed on what location any future carnivals will be scheduled.

Heart Fund

As a token of our appreciation of the generous support and cooperation of your papers in helping us publicize the 1953 Heart Fund, we are happy to present to you our "Hercules Heart" merit award, which is given to organizations and individuals who have rendered outstanding service to the Heart fund.

This splendid publicity helped immeasurably in making the drive a success. The books for the 1953 campaign were closed June 30, the end of the Association's fiscal year, showing contributions of $669,936.96 from the greater Chicago area, or 112 per cent of the announced goal of $600,000.

Congratulation on the new feature, News From the North Side of Mount Prospect. The residents of this section were beginning to feel like the missing link.

It sure was a pleasant surprise a few weeks ago to pick up the paper and be surprised with such a nice job of reporting from this section. May your reporter continue the excellent job of reporting the homey side of the news.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Last Saturday morning, Mother McA, Megan and I drove the short distance to Lake Geneva from the farm to meet mother and bring her back to Manapisu for the week-end. During the preceding week, mother's church group had been holding its midwest conference at George Williams College camp, located on the northwest side of the lake. Although we had passed the entrance many times, on swimming excursions to the lake, we were surprised, as we turned into the driveway leading to the buildings, to see how extensive and lovely the grounds are.

We arrived a little ahead of our appointed time and parked the car in the "circle," on which is located the administration building. Just across the sidewalk from where our car was parked, was a large screened in porch inside which a fast game of ping pong was in progress. We could see a small soda and refreshment bar beyond through the windows of the porch. In the middle of this circle driveway, several youngsters were sitting on rustic benches, laughing and talking in the shade of the big trees.

This scene would not have been unusual, except for the fact that one of the youths was a Negro, another Chinese or Japanese, another probably Indian — all chatting gaily with a white boy and girl.

We watched this interesting little group carry on a quite animated conversation, until Megan spotted mother coming up the driveway toward us.

IT WAS OBVIOUS from her smiling face and high spirits that she had enjoyed the past week of activities. As soon as we had greeted each other, she eagerly insisted we make a short tour of the place. Through the trees we could see the deep blue lake and several shining white piers, dotted with bathers, stretching out into it. The row boats tied up at the shore were, for a small fee, available to anyone staying at the camp.

We went first into the dining hall—a tremendous, high-ceilinged room filled with white-table-clothed-tables, from which through the huge windows the grounds and lake could be seen. On the ground floor of the dining hall is located the "newspaper office." Here programs, schedules, and educational pamphlets are written and printed.

WE DIDN'T GO into the auditorium, an interesting, old fashioned, circular building, since a lecture was being held in it at the time. A sort of recreation and informal meeting building was the next one on our "tour." Attractive chairs and tables, and an immense fire place filled one large room, and off to one side a smaller, more intimate room could be used for small discussions or committee meetings. This building also houses the gift and book shop. While we were in here, mother bought us each a pretty, little, hand painted fan. Megan chose a pink one, with a tiny butterfly flitting across it (and didn't let it out of her sight for the entire week-end).

Four or five nicely designed, contemporary, redwood cottages stand on the side of the slope very near the lake and piers. I imagine that when the old buildings finally need to be replaced, the new buildings will be similar to the cottages in architecture.

WE COULD EASILY have walked over to mother's and her friends' quarters, in what is known as "east camp." However, since we were picking up her luggage there, we drove over following a little narrow road through the woods. In this area there were several large, brown-with-white-trim lodges and a couple of modern cabins, much like the ones we had just seen. We walked up the steps of one of the lodges and onto the screened in porch, where mother said she and her friends sat in the evening, watching the moon come up over the lake. Inside the door was a large living room and fire place. The eight or ten bedrooms were situated around this big room. Mother and her friend, Betty, occupied a very nice room with twin beds and a lovely view.

On our way back to the farm, mother was full of stimulating talk about the lectures she had attended, and also told us more about the camp. It is named for George Williams, the founder of the YMCA, and all summer long educates students to be leaders in this organization (this accounted for the various nationalities of the youngsters we saw). The camp also is open to other church and educational groups. For entertainment there is swimming, boating, golf, movies shown in the auditorium, and an occasional square dance!

The camp is certainly a delightful place for the youngsters of today to learn to be leaders and good citizens of tomorrow, and for adults to be inspired through the exchange of new ideas and interesting experiences.

My love,
Patty

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We are going away. We are going away without any one of our four daughters breathing their hot little breaths down our necks and the feeling is just fine. Not a motherly instinct has risen its ugly head to mar the prospects of four days without the lovely word Mama ringing in our ears.

We were sitting in at a luncheon the other day when the subject of the TEEN AGE DRIVER, about which much has been written and strides taken to curb same, arose its perennial head. We live near the high school and at letting-out time we gather our young about us like a brood hen and hasten them housewise. Such screeching of tires as to make one's hair stand on end. We cringe and wait for the grinding of metal on metal that means that perpetual motion has met with immovable force. Fortunately, it hasn't happened yet.

But why, we asked the mothers of these drivers, must they take off sluffing inches of rubber from tires, instead of a normal take-off for machines that are not airborne? What instinct possesses the young to go from standing position to full flight with no inbetween? No answer was forthcoming as each mother of a teen ager who was driving was willing to admit that her child might be doing just that.

We offered what we thought was a great deterrent, to wit, take all young drivers of cars to either the county morgue or the accident wards of hospitals to view either the remains or the results of foolish driving. Shrieks of dismay and cries of how harsh we were, greeted this suggestion. How harsh can we get? Pretty harsh.

Our parakeet is just a nice bird. We are very fond of him even if he is a dumb cluck and can't talk. Probably one of the best reasons that he says nothing is that not one of us has ever taken the trouble to teach him but we love him. During the spring, he called like a robin, which was nice. Then he took up the song of our orioles, which was better. Then he graduated to the lovely song of the wren as she tried to coax a male into our really lovely and rentable redwood wren house. This compensated for his stupidity at the English language.

Now we are trying to teach him to talk because the starlings have come to live in our back yard and it is enough to have to put up with the real article without having a home grown one in the house. Who invented starlings anyway and why so many of them?

It rained, yes it did, and before it all dried out we managed to get some of the weeds out of our garden without seeming to be taking them out of solid blocks of concrete. Now we have hardly any excuse left to keep us from going ahead with the whole garden. Except that we are going away, weeds are very green and sometimes they even bloom and flowers are flowers after all.

LITTELFUSE

Enjoy the friendly atmosphere of a small community. We are a new company in the Des Plaines area. 90% of our employees are women. They work on small machines or inspect fuses or solder and assemble small parts.

Generally they have little experience and quite often none at all.

FOR THE MOST PART THEIR JOBS REQUIRE LITTLE OR NO STANDING

Most of them are housewives with children and are working to help pay for their new house, automobile, or to get Susie a pair of new shoes.

They receive a good rate of pay, have an opportunity to receive added compensation by working on incentive and enjoy many additional company benefits.

WON'T YOU COME IN AND LEARN ABOUT THE VARIETY OF JOBS WE HAVE FOR YOU?

Prompt Surgery Can Prevent Tree 'Suicides'

Some trees are their own hangmen. They strangle themselves with their own roots.

Many street trees as well as fine lawn specimens commit suicide every year. Tree owners often are unaware of the tragedies slowly taking place.

These arboreal deaths can be averted, if surgery is given in time, according to W. Havnes, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Hari-kari is noticeably common among Norway maples. But red maples, sugar maples, elms, oaks, horsechestnuts, planetrees and many others may die by their own hand, or rather, roots, too.

Unfortunately, tree lovers do not spot abnormalities because frequently the girdling, or strangling, roots are out of sight, below the ground surface. The strangling roots wrap themselves around the trunk or other roots and exert gradually increasing pressue as they grow in diameter. The victim finally expires if circulation is greatly impeded or stopped entirely.

There are usually indications of the trouble, although the only proof positive is root examination. Weak tree top growth, poor bark development or pronounced swelling at the trunk base sometimes are clues.

Tree doctors can rectify the condition by cutting off offending roots, if called in time.

Flood And Spot Lights Easily Used During Summer Months

Those same outdoor spot and floodlights which create so much beauty at Christmas can also add to your outdoor living during the summer months.

Outdoor cooking, gardening, recreation and safety and convenience after dark are only a few of the lighting jobs you can depend on these sturdy bulbs to do for the whole family.

As shown in the drawing on the upper left, a 150-watt projector spotlight in a simple outdoor holder is all that's needed to light the barbecue for nighttime cooking. Hang the lamp on a nearby tree and aim it on the grill.

For after dark planting sessions, you can easily rig up your own portable light as sketched above. Build a pole of wood or metal about 12 feet high. Then mount a weatherproof, adjustable socket at the top. G-E lighning specialists point out the necessity for using outdoor weatherproof wiring for extension cords. For additional convenience, spike the end of the pole so that it can be moved as you work.

Backyard sportslighting offers many opportunitites for the home handyman. A pair of 150-watt projector flood lights attached to a 12-foot pole will provide generous lighting for after dark table tennis.

Don't forget the importance of a well-lighted pathway from the garage. An exterior outlet under the eaves will provide an outlet for a 150-watt projector floodlight.

When the summer months are over, don't forget to store your outdoor lighting units where they can be conveniently reached for the Christmas holidays.

Lighting Tips for Homemakers

LIGHTING tips for homemakers

There's one way to make sure the family enjoys television without eye discomfort. Remind them not to watch it in a darkened room. E. W. Commery who has charge of residential lighting for the General Electric Lamp Division advises that for most comfortable viewing, floor and table lamps should remain lighted. Use them on low or medium levels. Another good television lighting arrangement is with torcheres which have opaque reflectors.

Have you ever considered the many ways a string of Christmas lights can add a festive touch to your party? One favorite "trick" at the GE Lighting Institute in Cleveland, O., is to arrange a string of indoor lights in the pedestal of a punch bowl. When the bowl is filled with shrimp or punch the colored light filters through the ice giving a festive touch.

Cool, crisp lighting in your kitchen is one way to beat the heat in summer. DeLuxe Cool White fluorescent lamps will create a crisp, cool atmosphere without sacrificing the appearance of foods. Use them in ceiling or wall fixtures in the kitchen during hot summer months. For warmer atmosphere in winter DeLuxe Warm White fluorescent lamps.

Here's a tip from GE garden lighting specialists for a simple way to light your garden this summer. Run a pair of heavy wires from a garage or porch outlet out through your shrubbery or flower beds. Attach pin-type sockets to the wires where needed and arrange bulbs behind decorative shields which a clever home handyman fashioned from tin cans.

Tired of working in your own shadow at the kitchen sink? Here's a suggestion for simple lighting arrangement that many a household electrician can install. Attach a socket (porcelain) to the ceiling over the sink. Insert a 75-watt R-30 spotlight. This small bulb about the size of a clenched fist will aim light downward where it is needed for cleaning vegetables or doing dishes. A decorative wooden valance board can be used to shield the bulb from view.

Paint Copper Screens

Copper and bronze screens should be painted, even though they will not rust. They will corrode and discolor and paint is needed for that reason.
